

For Transfer as a Music Major

MUSIC MAJOR ADVISEMENT GUIDE

CAREERS IN MUSIC

Collaborative Piano/Piano Accompaniment; Commercial and Media Music/Contemporary Music Writing and Production; Composition (Classical, Jazz, Contemporary Music); Conducting (Choral and Instrumental); Ethnomusicology/World Music; Film/TV Scoring; Music Business/Management; Music Education; Music Industry; Musicology/Music History; Music Engineering /Music Production/Music Technology; Music Theory; Music Therapy; Performance (Vocal and Instrumental: Classical, Jazz, Opera, Musical Theatre, Contemporary, Pop); Recording Arts; Singer-Songwriting/Pop Music; and many more.

DEGREES IN MUSIC

Most university and conservatory degree programs will focus on either classical or jazz music. At the Undergraduate (Bachelor's degree) level, you will usually find:

- Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree which has an Emphasis in Music, but is more of a well-rounded liberal-arts type major.
- Bachelor of Music (B.M. or B.Mus.) degree which is a very intense music/performance-based degree, typically designed for students who want to make a career out of music and/or music performance.
- Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.) degree which is more often found in the “visual” arts majors. However, within the field of music, it is often associated with the “Musical Theatre” major.

CONSERVATORY VS. UNIVERSITY

Conservatories are schools that are focused exclusively on music. However, occasionally (for example, The Juilliard School), conservatories have a wider focus covering music, dance, and drama.

Universities often have a “School of Music”, “College of Music”, or “Department of Music” within a larger university setting. Universities offer a wider range of majors and degrees. They do not focus solely on the Music majors.

PREPARATION AT SANTA MONICA COLLEGEMUSIC THEORY

For any degree in Music, students should start with MUSIC 1 (Music Fundamentals). Even students, who have had extensive background in music already, typically need to start with MUSIC 1. (Exemptions can be made by the Music Department Chair, on a case-by-case basis).

MUSIC STUDENTS SHOULD PLAN TO TAKE THE FOLLOWING CLASSES, IN THIS SEQUENCE ORDER*:

FIRST SEMESTER (OR SUMMER/WINTER SESSION):

MUSIC 1 (or 66)

SECOND SEMESTER:

MUSIC 2 and 6

THIRD SEMESTER:

MUSIC 3 and 7

FOURTH SEMESTER:

MUSIC 4 and 8

*Students you choose to pursue a non-performance-based area of Music (e.g. Music Industry, etc), might not need to complete the entire four semester sequence. See a counselor, the transfer school's website, or www.assist.org for additional information.

PIANO PREPARATION

When students transfer to a university/conservatory, they will be required to take a "Piano Placement Exam". In order to potentially "pass out" of piano classes, students are encouraged to take a minimum of two semesters of piano classes, prior to transfer. (Piano Performance Majors are not normally required to take this exam). For students who already have some background in piano, you can place yourself into a higher level of piano, or opt to not take piano classes at Santa Monica College.

RECOMMENDED PIANO COURSESFIRST SEMESTER (OR SUMMER/WINTER SESSION):

MUSIC 60A (or 66)

SECOND SEMESTER:

MUSIC 60B

ENSEMBLES

Students are required to participate in ensembles at the university/conservatory, whether or not they have already participated in ensembles at SMC. Participation in ensembles at SMC is recommended as preparation for the ensembles they will take at the university/conservatory. For "Applied Music Students" (see below) one ensemble each semester is required.

Additionally, participating in ensembles at SMC, gives students the opportunity to practice and perform as much as possible, which will benefit the student when it comes time to audition for the university.

A variety of ensemble choices are available, depending on the student's primary instrument/voice, and interests. Most SMC ensembles require an audition which is typically held during the first-class meeting. See www.smc.edu/music for additional "Auditions" information.

OPTIONAL: SMC APPLIED MUSIC PROGRAM

The "Applied Music Program" is a special program for Music Majors, which provides weekly private music lessons, free of charge, to students who are accepted into the program (based on audition). Students also enroll in a "Concert Music Class" (MUSIC 94) where they perform for, and critique each other throughout the semester. (see www.smc.edu/music for additional "Applied Program" requirements and information).

TRANSFERRING TO A UNIVERSITY OR CONSERVATORY AS A MUSIC MAJOR

- Acceptance into a university or conservatory as a Music major is based mainly on the audition (or portfolio for composition majors). However, grade point average, overall academics, and extracurricular activities are also considered.
- For some schools, students will need to be accepted by both the university's Admissions Office (based mainly on academics and extracurricular activities) and the Department or School of Music (based mainly on the audition/portfolio).
 - Typically, the Music Department makes their decision first. If their decision is to accept the student, they give their recommendation to the Admissions Office. Then it is up to the Admissions Office to make the final decision

APPLICATION DEADLINES

- December 1 is typically the deadline for Music Majors. (Check websites to be sure).
 - This is true even when the school has a later deadline for non-Music majors.
- November 30 is the deadline for UC and CSU schools.

After a student applies to the university/conservatory, that school will notify them regarding how to set up an audition date/time. Additional audition information can be found on the school's website.

AUDITIONS

Most auditions take place in January or February (for Fall transfer). Acceptance decisions are typically sent out by April 1. Student acceptance/responses are typically due by May 1.

Live auditions are usually preferred, and sometimes required. However, recorded audition CD's or DVD's are sometimes accepted.

Some schools and/or specific majors require a "pre-screening" CD or DVD (or portfolio for Composition majors) in order to determine if a live (in-person) audition will be granted.

Some out of state schools have "regional auditions", meaning representatives from the university come to Los Angeles on certain dates to conduct live auditions. Reservations are required for all live auditions – regional or otherwise.

Audition repertoire lists vary by instrument/major, and can be found on the university's website. Composition majors will be required to submit a portfolio. Portfolio requirements can also be found on the university's website.

Typically auditions require two to four pieces of contrasting styles. Composition portfolios typically require two to four original works of contrasting styles. (See websites for specifics).

THEORY PLACEMENT EXAM

- Often universities do not list any music classes that are required for transfer. This is because they want to test students on their knowledge of music theory, rather than automatically giving them credit for theory courses completed.
- Once accepted into a university (or sometimes on the day of the audition), students will take a “Theory Placement Exam” to see if they are finished with their theory classes, or if they need to take some at the university.
- The Theory Placement Exam is very rarely used as part of the admission decision making process. It is typically only used to determine if additional theory classes are needed.
- Most students will need to take additional theory classes at the university. When this is the case, the theory placement exam determines which level the student will start with.
- The best preparation for the exam is theory and musicianship classes (SMC MUSIC 2 - 8).

PIANO EXAM

- Students will also be given a piano exam to see if they need to take additional piano classes while at the university.
- This exam is typically given after the student is accepted into the university, and is not part of the admission decision.
- Most schools require about 1 – 2 years of piano proficiency (for non-piano majors).
- Piano Performance Majors are usually not required to take the Piano Exam.
- The best preparation for this exam is MUSIC 60A and 60B (or higher level) Piano classes.

FINANCIAL AID

- For most schools, “Financial Aid” is available to those who qualify, based on their “financial need”.
- Complete the “FAFSA” form online (www.fafsa.ed.gov) to apply for need based Financial Aid, which can potentially include grants, loans, and work study (on campus jobs).
- For California schools, students should ideally submit the FAFSA between January 1 and March 2 for the upcoming school year.
- For non-California schools, check the FAFSA website, as deadlines vary by state.
- Some schools also require the “CSS/Financial Aid Profile” form which can be found at <https://profileonline.collegeboard.com/>
- Federal Financial Aid is not available to International Students.

SCHOLARSHIPS

- Most schools will have “Merit-Based” (musical talent-based) Scholarships.
- Typically, students are considered automatically for these Scholarships, based on their audition to the school. There is usually no additional application needed.
- Some schools also offer “academic scholarships” through their Scholarship Office.
- Scholarships usually are available to International Students.

TOP RANKED SCHOOLS FOR SPECIFIC AREAS OF MUSIC (for Undergraduate degree level)

Note: Based on a combination of school rankings, school visits, website review, and input from various Santa Monica College Music Faculty, the following is a guideline to some of the top ranked music programs. It does not take into account individual student concerns such as cost, location, personal preference, and individual teachers at each school. It is meant only as a guide. Students should conduct their own research, and make their own decisions as to which schools are best for them.
