IV. SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT

Budget Update: Chancellor’s Office Budget Workshop

Today, the California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office held its Annual Budget Workshop for the 2013-14 budget. Following are several highlights:

- This is the third consecutive year in which a budget was passed on time and without any Republican votes.
- General fund expenditures are increasing but remain $6 billion below 2007-08 levels.
- The budget includes a reserve of $1.1 billion and is truly balanced.
- The governor actually revised 2013-14 revenue estimates $2.8 billion downward from the Legislative Analyst’s Office estimate.
- COLA is funded at $87.5 million (1.57%).
- Access (term now used instead of enrollment growth or restoration) is funded at $89.4 million (1.63%).

- Apportionment distribution is more complicated. In 2008-09, about two-thirds of apportionment was General Fund approved in the Budget Act. It is now one-third. Two-thirds of apportionment is based on estimates that may or may not materialize. These estimated revenues, i.e. RDA (Redevelopment) and EPA (Education Protection Act—Prop 30) accounts, have caused the CCCC to list a 4.8% deficit factor at second quarterly report. The backfills of the EPA and RDA related revenues are guaranteed by statute, but the timing and determination of the shortfalls have created delays and confusion. The CCCC presented two scenarios for the deficit factor for 2012-13: 0.7% and 2.4%.

- One last item covered was the general fund revenue forecast. Both forecasts showed the general fund revenues rising by 7% in 2014-15, and 5% in 2015-16 and 2016-17.

- More details will be presented at the September meeting.

COMMENT:

In recent emergency situations the college has sent notifications to students and staff through external telephones and email. However, many staff and students have devices switched off while in the classroom or at a work location. The college needs to have an effective method to communicate emergency information with students and staff in classrooms, offices and other locations on campus.

Staff recommends the installation of the Singlewire Informacast Advanced Notification System. Informacast works with the college’s existing data network and phone system to send emergency messages to phones, desktop computers, speakers and digital displays. The system can also simultaneously activate the existing method of notification via external phones and email.
Informacast is designed to send live audio or a pre-recorded message, or a visual notification to all users or groups of users. Messages can go to all campus sites, one campus site, one building, or even a single department.

Included in the cost are upgraded telephones for the entire campus to utilize the features of the new system. Installation will begin as soon as possible so most areas of campus will be covered by mid-fall. This is part of a larger review of the college’s emergency response systems.

Public Contract Code Section 20652 allows the District to purchase through other public agencies without advertising for bid.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 3

SUBJECT: PROCESS TO APPOINT MEMBERS OF THE CITIZENS’ BOND OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE

SUBMITTED BY: Superintendent/President

REQUESTED ACTION: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees commence the application process (1) to fill a vacancy on the Citizens’ Bond Oversight Committee (CBOC) created by the resignation of Todd Flora, a current member representing the business community and a taxpayers’ organization, and (2) to possibly appoint additional members to serve on the Citizens’ Bond Oversight Committee.

SUMMARY: The Government Code and Education Code require that the Citizens’ Bond Oversight Committee shall consist of a minimum of seven (7) members appointed by the Board of Trustees, with at least:

1. one representative of the business community within the District
2. one person active in a senior citizens’ organization
3. one person active in a bona fide taxpayers’ organization
4. one student who is currently enrolled at SMC
5. one person active in the support and organization of the District
6. additional appointees to represent the communities of Santa Monica and Malibu

The Committee meets quarterly (July, October, January and April) and reviews quarterly expenditure reports produced by the District to ensure that (a) bond proceeds are expended only for the purposes set forth in the ballot measure; (b) no bond proceeds are used for any teacher or administrative salaries or other operating expenses; (c) bond proceeds are maximized. Members of the Citizens’ Bond Oversight Committee shall serve for no more than two consecutive terms (Education Code Section 15282.)

RECOMMENDATION NO. 4

SUBJECT: SMC INITIATIVES TO SUPPORT SUCCESS OF STUDENT-VETERANS

SUBMITTED BY: Chair, Board of Trustees
Student Trustee

REQUESTED ACTION: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees support the District’s efforts to promote the success of the student-veterans attending Santa Monica College by:

Affirming Current College Initiatives
The college has established an expanded dedicated SMC Veterans’ Resource Center to provide services to student-veterans. The center is staffed with permanent employees who have experience and expertise in working with student-veterans. The college has implemented initiatives that create a culture of trust and connectedness across the college community to promote well-being and success for veterans, ensure consistent and sustained support from campus leadership, and establish collaboration with local community and organizations (American Legion), including government agencies (U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs), to align and coordinate various services for student-veterans.

Supporting The Success of Veterans on America’s Campuses: A Key Mission
The U.S. Department of Education and the Department of Veteran Affairs are jointly implementing this program at the federal level. Santa Monica College has pledged its support of this vision. Following are The “Eight Keys to Success” that are being considered in this initiative called The Success of Veterans on America’s Campuses: A Key Mission:

1. Create a culture of trust and connectedness across the campus community to promote well-being and success for veterans.
2. Ensure consistent and sustained support from campus leadership.
3. Implement an early alert system to ensure all veterans receive academic, career, and financial advice before challenges become overwhelming.
4. Coordinate and centralize campus efforts for all veterans, together with the creation of a designated space (even if limited in size).
5. Collaborate with local communities and organizations, including government agencies, to align and coordinate various services for veterans.
6. Utilize a uniform set of data tools to collect and track information on veterans, including demographics, retention and degree completion.
7. Provide comprehensive professional development for faculty and staff on issues and challenges unique to veterans.
8. Develop systems that ensure sustainability of effective practices for veterans.
Supporting Assembly Bill 13- Waiver of Nonresident Tuition for Student-Veterans

Existing law exempts a student who was a member of the Armed Forces of the United States stationed in California on active duty for more than one year from paying nonresident tuition. Student-veterans who are not stationed in California on active duty for more than one year are currently required to pay nonresident tuition, and the GI Bill does not cover the cost of nonresident tuition. Vital services provided by the SMC Veterans’ Resource Center would benefit nonresident student-veterans who plan to make California their home.

Assembly Bill 13 would eliminate the requirement that to qualify for waiver of nonresident tuition, a student-veteran be stationed in California for more than one year immediately prior to being discharged. The vital services provided by the SMC Veterans’ Resource Center would benefit nonresident student-veterans who plan to make California their home.

INFORMATION ITEM 5

SUBJECT: EMERITUS COLLEGE UPDATE

SUBMITTED BY: Vice-President, Academic Affairs

Emeritus College, now in its 37th year at Santa Monica College, continues to offer a broad program of classes to the older adults who reside in the City of Santa Monica and the greater Los Angeles area.

This report provides an overview of the Emeritus College program, the challenges it faces, and a summary of the actions and plans to address those challenges to ensure that Emeritus College continues to provide a vibrant, comprehensive program for older adults that responds to the needs of the community while addressing a changing landscape of government support, legislation, and funding.

Introduction

Emeritus College Students

Emeritus College students are a critical link between Santa Monica College and the community. They contribute to the college in a number of ways: as volunteers, through financial contributions, and as supporters of initiatives critical to Santa Monica College’s organizational well being, including recent bond measures and Proposition 30.

More than 3,000 students enroll in Emeritus College classes each semester. Most Emeritus College students are between the ages of 71 and 85, and, in general, ages range from 48 to over 100 years of age (six Emeritus College students are over the age of 100, with the oldest being 106!). As shown in Figure 1, female students outnumber male students by a ratio of more than three to one. Approximately 37 percent of Emeritus students reside within the City of Santa Monica (Figure 2).

The Emeritus College Executive Council (ECEC) is an advisory committee, comprising Emeritus College student representatives elected to fill 15 positions. The term for each member is five years, and students are qualified to run if they have taken two Emeritus College classes and/or have volunteered for Emeritus College for one year during the past three years. Another student-led organization, the Emeritus Student Union, was recently formed.
Emeritus College Classes

Emeritus College classes are state-supported through noncredit apportionment. All courses are approved by Santa Monica College’s Curriculum Committee, the Academic Senate, the Board of Trustees, and the Community College Chancellor’s Office. Courses are developed to address the unique needs of the older adult population and are intended to enhance students’ lives. Many courses are designed to help students build coping strategies and to provide them with tools to live an enriched life at a time when many students are also experiencing loss (death) of significant others in their lives and/or personal physical and cognitive challenges.

In fall 2013, Emeritus College will offer 126 class sections in the following areas:

- Art Survey and Studio Art
- Computer Occupational Training
- Digital Photography
- Film Appreciation
- Health and Safety Education
- Home and Consumer Education
- Human Development
- Literature and Writing
- Music Appreciation and Performance
- Pathfinders Conditioning and Speech
- Personal Finance
- Political Science
- Theatre Arts Appreciation and Performance

Among the topics listed above, The Pathfinders Program is a unique series of courses designed for students who have experienced a stroke or acute brain injury (ABI). It includes:

- computer-based Aphasic Speech classes for students with communication impairments due to stroke or ABI;
- Pathfinders Speech classes which assist students in improving their communication skills; and
- Body Conditioning for the Disabled classes designed to help those coping with the effects of stroke to build stamina, strength, range of motion, posture and balance.

These classes provide an opportunity for students to continue to improve their post-stroke or post-ABI condition and help prevent students from becoming homebound and isolated. The instructors who teach the Pathfinders courses possess state licenses to provide services to this unique student population.

Organization (Administration, Staff and Faculty)

Emeritus College staff includes the Associate Dean of Emeritus College, an administrative assistant, a program coordinator and an admissions and registration clerk. In addition, a team of 27 volunteers, who assist students in the offices, computer lab and classroom, is an invaluable asset to the program.

All 84 Emeritus College instructors are part-time faculty members. Several teach both Emeritus classes and credit classes, and several are retired from the college but continue to teach through Emeritus.
Emeritus College has its own enrollment office to serve its students, who are often reluctant to utilize student services available on the main campus. The program offers both online and paper enrollment processes for students. Online enrollment presents challenges for many students, but students are given registration assistance in the Emeritus computer lab. Emeritus College maintains the option of paper enrollment because many students have physical difficulties that preclude them from using a computer or are simply not comfortable using a computer, even with assistance.

Counseling, Support and Referral

Emeritus College has established an effective partnership with the USC School of Social Work to provide support services for its students. A social work intern from USC is onsite at the Emeritus campus two days a week to provide counseling, conduct support group sessions, and provide referrals to local and community social service agencies. Students access these services in a safe environment in which they are already comfortable and where they are assured confidentiality. Students who were reluctant to utilize referrals to the main campus welcome the opportunity to have these services available at the Emeritus campus.

Fundraising and Annual Giving

The fundraising arm of Emeritus College has two basic components: planned giving and the annual campaign. At one time, Emeritus College enjoyed the services of a planned giving expert who worked with the students to develop their wills and trusts. As a result of the long-term investment in this area, Emeritus College has been the recipient of several large gifts which have been placed in trust. These include the Luisa Kott Music Fund ($177.9K), the Dorothy Tunis Theatre Fund ($258K) and the Endowment Fund ($135K). Currently, funds held for Emeritus College by the Santa Monica College Foundation total $3.8 million.

Emeritus College conducts an annual fundraising campaign overseen by the ECEC Fundraising Committee. While the level of student participation in this campaign varies from year to year, over $100,000 is typically contributed annually. The ECEC also advises recommendations for spending the annual campaign funds and a portion of the funds have been set aside to build the Emeritus College Foundation Account. Emeritus College works with the Foundation to identify and secure donations, bequests, and other forms of external funding. These efforts will have to be considerably expanded and focused in the coming years to ensure that Emeritus College remains financially sound and student access is maintained.

Current Challenges

As a result of the state’s protracted and ongoing economic downturn, the focus at the state level has moved away from the portion of the California Community College mission that provides for lifelong learning opportunities. While Santa Monica College continues to endorse and support Emeritus College, the availability of funding and support for noncredit Older Adult programs from the state has diminished. This has resulted in two major challenges for Emeritus College: 1) tackling enrollment demand that exceeds available apportionment funding and 2) planning for a future which likely will not include state support.

Enrollment Demand

The College is committed to offering classes up to what the state will fund which is currently up to a maximum of 581 FTES. However, as a result of funding reductions that have continued since 2008/09, Emeritus College has exceeded the amount of funded enrollment over the last several semesters.
As shown in Figure 3, the number of students served during the regular semesters remains fairly consistent (with the exception of Spring 2012, during which enrollment in certain physical education courses was funded through the Emeritus Foundation Fund and thus is not included in the noncredit enrollment numbers).

Other Activities: A wide array of activities including lectures, performances and other events was developed for the Winter 2013 intersession. The program served nearly 1,000 students for a modest cost of about $7,000 dollars, using funds from the annual giving campaign. Students were enthusiastic about the activities and many scheduled events were filled to capacity. The success of the winter program is also due to the Santa Monica College staff (including deans, directors and a board trustee) who provided special lectures and presentations on a volunteer basis. Several college departments – including the Broad Stage, Auxiliary, Marketing, Reprographics, and Receiving – offered additional support at a reduced cost to support the Emeritus special winter events. This alternative to the typical class schedule was developed after the District decided to eliminate the winter intersession as a result of the state’s workload reductions. The District plans to implement a similar program of activities for Winter 2014.

Legislative Changes

State Senator Carol Liu has authored Senate Bill 173, which proposes to eliminate funding for several noncredit categories, including older adult noncredit education, parenting, home economics, and health and safety education. While the bill does not forbid the offering of such classes, defunding these areas would require that these classes become fee-based and self-sustaining. The Governor’s Budget Trailer Bill language was modified in May to allow for the continuation of at least current funding for Older Adult programs, but compromise modifications to that language have cast doubt on whether funding would be available after two years or at all if SB 173 is approved.

Emeritus College staff and students have actively addressed this bill through consistent communication with the state legislators and the Governor’s office. Senator Ted Lieu was invited by the Associate Dean to address Emeritus College students, and he has written several pieces in support of Older Adult programs and voiced his support for the Governor’s original budget trailer bill modifications. Dr. Tsang and other Santa Monica staff have contacted Assemblyperson Bloom’s office, voicing the college’s opposition to SB 173. Santa Monica College also joined a coalition of organizations, including the California Teacher’s Federation, the Community College League of California, and a group of community colleges with large noncredit programs, in opposing the bill. However, opposition to the bill, voiced across the state, seems to have had little effect on swaying the legislators’ opinion.
Emeritus College’s Response to these Challenges

The Emeritus College Executive Council has been active in organizing and working to educate the community and elected area representatives on the importance of continuing funding for noncredit older adult education and the other noncredit areas.

Working together with the ECEC, the Associate Dean initiated a series of focus groups over several weeks during the winter. The focus groups included students, community members, faculty and staff. As a result of the focus groups, suggestions and ideas were gathered to address the concerns of the Emeritus students and to develop strategies for responding to the continued reductions in funding at the state level.

As an outgrowth of the focus group activities, several work groups were formed to develop strategies and plans for the future of Emeritus College. The workgroups and subsequent plans include the following:

- Advocacy: Working with the ECEC and workgroups, priorities were identified and strategies were implemented for improving advocacy at the state level to educate legislators of the benefits and cost effectiveness of older adult education. The strategies employed included a letter writing campaign, telephone calls and meetings with state representatives. When State Senator Ted Lieu met with Emeritus students, they were able to give Senator Lieu firsthand knowledge about the benefits of lifelong learning and the need for noncredit older adult education. A second advocacy workgroup focused on organizing a trip to Sacramento to meet with elected representatives. While this endeavor initially had much support, interest waned as the travel plans were solidified. Most students felt that it would be more effective to communicate with their representatives through visits to their local offices or through correspondence, email and telephone calls.

- Education and Research: Members in this workgroup conducted research on the benefits of providing educational opportunities and providing health classes for older adults, researching texts and journal articles. Through their research the students were able to demonstrate the cost effectiveness of offering such programs. The Emeritus students in this group developed as a final product a white paper outlining the benefits of continuing funding for older adult noncredit education. The workgroup was also able to identify how other costs, including health care, would rise if students were not able to continue to participate in these classes.

- Funding Alternatives: This workgroup developed as the result of student concern over the continued reduction of course offerings. This workgroup identified areas of possible additional funding including grants; partnerships with local city government, community and healthcare agencies; endorsements from corporations, underwriting, and naming rights; and fee-based classes. This group realized that some of these ideas are beyond the purview of the workgroup and would mean that the District would be establishing formal relationships with outside organizations.

The Funding Alternatives workgroup eventually narrowed its focus to the possibility of fee-based programs. Concerns were raised over the conflict between covering the full cost of offering classes and keeping class fees affordable for students with fixed, limited incomes as well as possibly establishing a scholarship program. Committee members recommended establishing criteria for scholarship eligibility and disbursement of scholarships. It was noted that implementing a scholarship program would require additional staffing.

The workgroup also determined that a more robust fundraising program would need to be implemented. A comprehensive development plan is one of the goals for the upcoming year for the ECEC.
With considerable student support, and with the support of the District, Emeritus College is planning and positioning itself to respond to the rapidly changing landscape for hitherto state-supported older adult programs. A variety of options is being considered to ensure that the program remains flexible and responsive as the contemplated legislative, regulatory and budgetary changes are clarified and implemented.

Planning needs to address the following possibilities:

- Plan “A” will be based on the most optimistic scenario that current funding continues for Older Adult programs. However, even in this scenario, the Governor’s modified budget trailer bill language does not provide for growth funding and this plan will have to include alternative methods for providing additional course offerings. The first steps are being implemented this fall through the development of several fee-based classes.
- Plan “B” assumes that the recent compromises to the Governor’s budget trailer bill language modifications are implemented and Older Adult program funding is allowed to continue at the current levels for two years before state support for this (as well as the other three categories) is eliminated. For the Emeritus College to continue, alternate methods for offering classes and other programs beyond the state-funded levels will have to be developed on an accelerated basis. This plan will focus on providing a structured transition from state-funded to alternatively-funded programming (e.g., fee-based classes).
- Plan “C” assumes that SB 173 is passed and Older Adult classes (along with the other three categories proposed for elimination) are eliminated in a much more abrupt and time-impactful way. This will be a much more aggressive plan and will be based on an almost immediate transition to a fee-based structure.

Common to all planning efforts are several goals:

- Meeting the needs and interests of Older Adults by offering a wide range of courses;
- Establishing an ongoing, sustainable financial structure, assuming an absence or great reduction in state funding;
- Developing a class fee structure that is flexible, affordable and transparent; and
- Developing a review process for courses, fees and governance.

A number of questions have been discussed briefly through the focus groups and subsequent workgroup efforts described above, but in-depth analysis and planning needs to be undertaken to address them fully. Most of the questions center on the fiscal condition of Emeritus College. Some of these questions include:

- What is a reasonable tuition rate that will attract students but also ensure that Emeritus College operates on a self-sufficient basis?
- How can Emeritus College’s viability be ensured while ensuring access for all; in other words, how can a fee-based structure be developed that is fiscally self-sustaining, but also supports those who cannot afford to pay a fee?

The plan will also need to detail strategies related to marketing, public relations, fundraising, and enrollment analysis.

To address these and other issues, an Emeritus College Task Force, the membership of which will include representatives from administration, faculty, the ECEC, the Emeritus College students, and local community organizations/government offices, should be formed. The initial tasks and outcomes of this Task Force include:

- Developing a fiscally responsible business plan
- Developing marketing and public relations strategies
- Coordinating with the SMC Foundation to develop and implement a comprehensive fundraising plan
Financial Considerations

As mentioned earlier, the financial aspect of Emeritus College’s future actions is a central issue as the program transitions from being state-supported to being (largely) fiscally self-sufficient. The wide variety of tuition options for fee-based programs and various models are dependent on different ratios of expenses to revenue, different course models, and the viability/sustainability of alternative revenue-producing avenues.

The current operational costs for Emeritus College are estimated to be $1.6 million annually. This number is based on the expenses charged to the district (salaries and benefits for faculty, staff and administration; rents and leases associated with off-site facilities that charge rent for the classes held there; and an aggregate accounting of funds spent from the program’s foundation, auxiliary and lottery accounts. Not included in this estimate are the costs for building maintenance, utilities, and marketing.

The financial goals of the program are:

- To keep tuition fees affordable for students while providing high quality educational programs.
- To adopt a calendar of class offerings that allow for maximum flexibility and reasonable fees.

Types of revenue generating instructional models include:

- Fee-based classes: self-supporting classes that need no external financial support
- Sponsored classes: classes/events in which an external funding source underwrites either all or part of the instructional costs of the class. (An additional advantage of these courses is the connection established between the sponsor and the college.)
- Special projects: ongoing programs designed specifically to generate revenues on a regular basis to offset expenses. For Emeritus College, special projects include trips and tours.

Additional costs will include scholarships to ensure access to classes for students who cannot afford to pay the fees. Sufficient revenue from fee-based classes will take several years to generate this amount and other revenue generation models will need to be considered and evaluated. Potential revenue generating ideas include memberships, grants, fundraising, and corporate sponsorships. Other possible means of reducing expenses include student-generated curricula, following the “Omnilore” model used in the Southbay area, and classes sponsored by the City of Santa Monica and local community based organizations.

Fundraising

Potential fundraising activities include:

- Soliciting donations from Emeritus College students and the community at large.
- Writing grants.
- Identifying partnerships with organizations invested in the Older Adult community or in addressing issues relevant to older adults (e.g., AARP).
- Initiating sponsorship for various classes.
- Establishing the Emeritus College scholarship program.
- Identifying individuals, community members, and businesses who might sponsor individual classes.
- Developing corporate sponsors who might “underwrite” classes in exchange for naming or marketing opportunities.
- Holding special events for fundraising purposes.
Potential public relations/marketing ideas include:

- Developing special events designed to engage the community.
- Coordinating with special interest groups such as AARP that support programs for older adults.
- Developing partnerships with community businesses and nonprofit agencies to support specific programs and classes.
- Monitoring and updating the Emeritus College website to ensure timely distribution of program developments, news about upcoming events, and sponsorship/support opportunities.
- Developing press releases relevant to Emeritus College activities.

SUBJECT: SMCCD CAPITAL OUTLAY PROGRAM/BOND CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM REPORT

SUBMITTED BY: Vice-President, Business/Administration

I. Introduction

The District’s capital outlay program consists of larger non-maintenance projects that are generally over $100,000, typically financed by local taxpayer approved bonds. The capital projects include new buildings, replacement buildings, renovations, property acquisition, parking, site work, landscaping, infrastructure, security, and technology.

Over the last several decades, Santa Monica and Malibu voters have approved four safety and modernization bond measures in support of the college’s career and academic programs:

- Proposition T 1992 $ 23,000,000
- Measure U 2002 $160,000,000
- Measure S 2004 $135,000,000
- Measure AA 2008 $295,000,000

By way of background, local bonds financed the original Main Campus, built in the 1950s and 1960s. However, in subsequent years, until 1992, the District depended primarily on limited state funding, so only a few large projects were built. After the 1994 Northridge Earthquake and the extensive damage to the Main Campus, the District received federal FEMA support for rebuilding which started the current era of major construction on the campus.

In addition to the local bonds listed above, there has been significant financial support from federal, state and city sources along with the District’s own capital funds.

The 1998 Facilities Master plan was a major effort in guiding the modernization and development of the Main Campus after the Northridge earthquake. Additional facility assessments were conducted in 2001, 2002, and 2003. In 2007 a master plan was added for the development of the Bundy Campus. In 2010, an update of the Facilities Master Plan was completed to address other safety and modernization improvements on the Main Campus and to incorporate the satellite campuses.

Highlights of the completed projects include the purchase of the Bundy Campus and Emeritus College, and the construction of the Theatre Arts, Broad Stage, HSS Building, and Campus Quad. Projects currently underway include a new Child Development Center, a Malibu Campus, a Health, PE, Fitness and Dance Complex, Student Services, and a redeveloped Academy of Entertainment & Technology Campus with new facilities for KCRW.

III. Detailed Status on Projects in Design or Pre-Construction Phases

919 SANTA MONICA BOULEVARD – The interim plan for this facility is to house programs that support the Performing Arts Center, many of which are now in temporary trailers. A minor renovation project is planned to start August 20th and completed by December 20th. Long-term use will be examined as the District updates its master plan.

AET/KCRW – This project, which includes a 420 space parking garage, renovation of the existing 50,000 square foot building, a 30,000 square foot addition, and a 36,000 square foot new building for KCRW has been approved by the Division of the State Architect (DSA). The project is out to bid and will likely be presented at the September Board meeting for approval. Construction is scheduled to start by October 1.

EAST WING PERFORMING ARTS – The project to add two music classroom/labs and a multipurpose room is in the final stages of DSA approval. The District expects to bid the project in the fall and start in early January. See below “Future Planning Issues” for a discussion of Performing Arts Campus parking issues.

HEALTH, PE, FITNESS AND DANCE – This 66,000 square foot project will house Kinesiology, Athletics, Dance and the new Central Plant. The project is in the middle of the DSA process with approval expected by November. Construction is expected to start in late spring with demolition of the existing locker room building to take place next summer.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT CENTER – This is a cooperative project with the City of Santa Monica. The architect has met with the building committee and an initial space program has been determined. At the same time the college team worked with the City of Santa Monica and determined the site boundaries on city property in the Civic Center area. The site will be located at the northeast corner of the Civic Auditorium parking lot immediately to the south of the city parking structure.

MALIBU CAMPUS – This is a cooperative project with the City of Malibu and the County of Los Angeles. The conceptual drawings of the project were presented to the Malibu JPA in April. The District is now working with the County of Los Angeles on some site issues including wastewater discharge. The architect is preparing a submittal to the Malibu Planning Department to review the project for conformance to the Local Coastal Plan. Once the City and County issues are resolved the EIR can be completed, which is expected to be later this fall.

STUDENT SERVICES – The Board has approved Morris Architects as the architect for the redesign of the Student Services project. The District’s program manager, LPI, is meeting with student services staff and related offices to begin the development of the space program. Morris is now working with this initial program to develop a schematic drawing. Planning and design is expected to take one year.

IV. Upcoming Planning Issues

PERFORMING ARTS CENTER PARKING – The East Wing project will add two new music classroom labs and a multi-purpose room to the Performing Arts Campus. At the site there has historically been a tight supply of parking. During construction of the new East Wing, the District will be able to use parking at the adjacent 919 Santa Monica Boulevard site. Following the completion of the East Wing, in order to provide for occupancy of the new facility, the District must add additional parking either on-site or nearby. The District will not be able to fully utilize the site without the additional parking.
WAREHOUSE SPACE – The college currently uses space on the first level of Drescher Hall for bookstore receiving and general storage. Restoring this space immediately to instructional and student service use will assist the District in meeting existing student needs. Additionally, long-term plans for Drescher Hall and the Pico frontage are incompatible with the current receiving and storage functions. The District is recommending the use of a nearby off campus location for receiving and warehousing.

DRESCHER/BOOKSTORE/PICO PROMENADE – The original plan for the Drescher Hall frontage featured a large bookstore including sizable book stack areas and a large warehouse. Technology is drastically changing the bookstore business. By the time a new bookstore is built and occupied the District expects fewer paper books will be available. The District recommends remodeling the existing store, changing the name from “Bookstore” to “Campus Store” and updating the mix of products for sale. This would keep the existing site at the center of campus as the most convenient location for students. The space in Drescher Hall would be used long-term for instructional and student services. Some additional space outside Drescher would be added for a bike center and café.

BUNDY/AIRPORT – Planning for the Bundy Campus will need to be updated to include the addition of a new 3.1-acre site adjacent to the campus. The Airport Arts Campus plan will also need to be updated to reflect the addition of a new modular classroom complex and high-tech infrastructure on the site. The District’s Academic Affairs office is studying these new facilities, together with the planned move of Journalism, Film Studies, Broadcasting, Radio, and Mass Communications to the AET Campus, and the opportunities available on the Main Campus with a planned Math and Science wing, to better define the remaining facility needs for career technical education.

V. Sustainability

Sustainability is a major aspect of the bond program. All new bond projects will be designed to LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design – US Green Building Council) Silver level or higher. In addition to the major building projects, the District has energy efficiency projects in progress on an ongoing basis. 2010 saw the completion of the solar installation on the parking structures. This year includes an energy retrofit project with boiler upgrades, interior and exterior lighting upgrades and the addition of new sustainability features to the Center for Environmental and Urban Studies (CEUS) house. This project won the Energy and Sustainability Award from the Chancellor’s Office. As a future project, the District has submitted a proposal for Proposition 39 funding to the state for an additional photovoltaic array over Parking Lot 5 off of Pearl Street.

Title of Grant: Community Based Job Training Grant in Recycling and Resource Management

Granting Agency: Department of Labor Education and Training Administration

Subcontractor: Jewish Vocational Services Los Angeles (JVS)

Revised Contract: $400,000

Performance Period: July 1, 2012 – December 31, 2013

Summary: The Board of Trustees accepted the Community Based Job Training Grant ($4.87 million) and approved Santa Monica College (SMC) as the lead agency in this large consortium with Irvine Valley College and Golden West College in Recycling and Resource Management to place participants in emerging green jobs related to this training.

In June 2013, SMC received a no-cost extension from the Department of Labor to redirect the unused grant funds for job placement activities. JVS will provide training and job readiness activities for approximately 422 students to support the overall success of this multiple-partner grant program managed by SMC. The revision has also been approved and supported by the Department of Labor grant officer.

The focus of the no-cost extension is on job placement activities. The aim is to make 30-31 job placements per month in order to reach the goal of 422 placements by the end of December 2013. JVS will track student job placements, increase incumbent worker tracking for reporting advancement and salary raises. They will have resume workshops, individual and group resume review for specific job opportunities and increased job referrals via weekly email blast. Jewish Vocational Services will follow up with hiring managers for employer feedback.

- The Bundy parking lot should be completed by the end of the summer.
- The Information Technology Relocation project is underway. It is a two-story extension to the Media Center that consolidates all technology functions into one area.
- The relocation of the Academy of Entertainment and Technology campus to the new portable facilities at the Bundy and Airport campuses was completed over spring break. The District has received DSA (Department of State Architect) approval on the AET project, is currently out to bid for construction, and plans for Board approval of a contractor in September. Construction at the AET will start in October 2013 and will take approximately two years.
- Two projects are currently awaiting DSA approval – East Wing at the Performing Arts Center and the Health/PE/Fitness/Dance Center.
- Student Services Building: The District experienced some difficulties on the Student Services Project with the existing design and design team. Therefore, the District is starting over on that project with a new design team and a new architect, Morris Architects. The new schedule will be one year in design, one year in DSA and two years in construction.
- Malibu Campus: The District is working with the County of Los Angeles to resolve some environmental wastewater issues.
- The College is working with the City of Santa Monica on the Early Childhood Development/Childcare project to be located at the Civic Center.

Shooting Incident

Committee members asked for a report on the shooting incident of June 7, 2013 and how it would affect the college’s facilities program. Staff reported it that began down the street on Pico Blvd. and ended on the college campus. A college groundkeeper, his daughter and a neighbor of the college were victims of the shooting. Santa Monica Police and SMC police followed the shooter into the college library where they were able to put the incident to a stop. The incident has caused the college to assess and improve its existing communications and security systems, and the District has contracted with several security consultants to assist with the process.
