IV. SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT

Update

- Accreditation

The SMC community and particularly the members of the Accreditation Steering Committee are deeply involved in the development of the College’s Self Evaluation Report in response to the Accreditation Standards put forth by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges. Fourth and in some cases the fifth drafts of each standard and subsection are currently being reviewed and the process of soliciting feedback from the greater college community and from the Board of Trustees has been launched.

One of the interesting challenges during this cycle of self-evaluation is responding to ACCJC’s standards and complex list of prompts while maintaining a shorter narrative length. There are over 600 standard subsections and prompts to respond to, but at the same time, ACCJC has emphasized that our report should be brief. The steering committee is in the process of refining and focusing the narrative on what is essential.

In addition to presentations made at opening day and Institutional Flex days for the past two years, the Steering Committee is also holding brown bag sessions for the college community to provide an opportunity for the campus community to comment on the drafts. The Standard I Brown Bag was held in December and we will be having the Standard II Brown Bag on March 24, the Standard III Brown Bag on April 7 and the Standard IV Brown Bag on May 17 in the HSS (History and Social Science Building)

This month, accreditation related content will be woven into the Institutional Flex day on March 15, including a presentation by the accreditation co-chairs. This workshop, entitled “Fun Facts, Lessons Learned, and Recommendations” will provide an overview of the process of self-evaluation and the insights we gained from the process. Later in the year, a community forum will be planned to get feedback from the external community on the Self Evaluation Report. Finally, there will be a mock visit for college staff to become familiar with the site visit interview process. The dates for the visit from the external Evaluation Site team will be this fall October 3-6, 2016.

Special thanks were extended to Laurie McQuay who has worked with the Accreditation Steering committee to ensure that the self-evaluation report reflects SMC’s commitment to quality while maintaining focus on where the institution can improve. She was commended for her efforts and for the extraordinary level of service she has provided to the Steering Committee over the past months.

- Black History Month: Spring semester 2016 was kicked off with a series of activities in recognition of Black History Month. A celebration was held in the quad on the first day of classes and a number of speakers like Tuskegee Airman Robert Friend and writer Michael Datcher, were invited to address students and staff.
• Women’s Empowerment Month speakers include Anita Sarkeesian on Tuesday, March 8th, Jackson Katz on March 17th and 18th, and Rosa Morena on March 10th. Superintendent/President Kathryn Jeffery and Board Chair Louise Jaffe were recognized by the Santa Monica Commission on the Status of Women in honor of Women’s History Month, and they are both included in a month-long display in the lobby of Santa Monica City Hall.

• Spring 2016 Semester:

  – Enrollment on first census is down .62 percent. The softening of enrollment is a statewide trend. Administrative staff is working on strategies to add more capacity, attract new markets, and capture additional growth. These strategies will be unveiled soon.

  – Lines on campus during the first two weeks of classes were manageable. There were four information booths set up around the campus. Traffic on Pearl Street and Pico Boulevard was typically heavy. A pilot program for uberPOOL launched for the spring was a huge success and hopefully will help reduce traffic. The pick-up/drop-off point is at the front of the campus. 40 students have signed up for the Breeze Bike Share program. Thanks to Campus Police and the Parking Enforcement Officers, traffic around the campus was managed with no complaints from neighbors.

• State Budget: Last week, the CCC Chancellor’s Office issued the 2014-2015 Recalculation and the First Principle Apportionment (P1). Changes to SMC’s budget include an elimination of the deficit factor, an adjustment of projected revenue by $34,230 for the loss of 7.32 FTES related to an audit finding, reduction of the Educational Protection Account by $102,812 which was offset by an increase to prior year apportionment of the same amount resulting in a net amount of $0. The net effect of the recalculation is an additional $310,326 for SMC. While there were 22 districts last year for “stabilization funding,” this year 13 districts reported unfunded growth and unclaimed growth funds will be distributed to these in March. As for the first principal apportionment, the current deficit factor is 1.3 percent; growth for this year was budgeted at 3 percent, with reported growth of only 2 percent.

• Malibu Project: The Malibu Planning Commission approved the variances for the SMC Malibu Project with a vote of 3 ayes, 2 noes. The next step is the Malibu City Council meeting in April.

• Welcome: Superintendent/President Kathryn Jeffery expressed gratitude for activities welcoming her to Santa Monica College. Groups included the Management Association, Academic Senate, Faculty Association, Student Services, Human Resources, Business Services and Community Affairs, Department Chairs, CSEA Officers, Bookstore staff, and DPAC. She is looking forward to the years ahead and being a part of the college community.

INFORMATION ITEM 1

SUBJECT: ACTUARIAL STUDY OF RETIREE HEALTH LIABILITIES, 2015 UPDATE

SUBMITTED BY: Vice-President, Business/Administration

INTRODUCTION: In accordance with the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Statements No. 43 and 45, the District has identified its future liabilities for Other Post-Employment Benefits (OPEB) expenses through an analysis by an independent actuary. The District engaged Total Compensation Systems, Inc. (TCS) to analyze liabilities associated with its current retiree health program as of July 1, 2015. Geoff Kischuk, TCS, will provide a summary and information on the actuarial study, including the various assumptions for mortality rates, inflation, interest rates, service period, etc.

SUMMARY: According to the 2015 updated actuarial report the Actuarial Present Value of Total Projected Benefits (APVTP) offered by the District to current and future retirees is $112,152,318. The Actuarial Accrued Liability, or amount the District should have already set aside to fund past earned benefits, is $92,553,859 of which $88,636,033 remains unfunded. In 2013-2014 the District implemented a plan to fund the OPEB obligation to meet the requirements of ACCJC Accreditation Standard 3D, maintain a strong bond rating and guarantee the District’s generous retiree health benefits for all past, current and future employees. The plan called for an annual commitment of $500,000, starting in 2013-2014, and an additional $500,000 each succeeding year until the Annual Required Contribution (ARC) would be met. This plan, coupled with interest earnings, has resulted in an increase in the District's Plan Assets by $1,841,703 or 88% and a reduction in the APVTP and Normal Cost between the July 1, 2013 and July 1, 2015 actuarial studies.

SUBJECT: UPDATE ON STRATEGIC INITIATIVE - GRIT (Growth/Resilience/Integrity/Tenacity)

SUBMITTED BY: Vice-President, Academic Affairs

The GRIT Initiative was developed during the College’s 2011-2012 Strategic Planning process, and launched at the Fall 2012 Opening Day. GRIT is premised on the assumptions that our students are resilient and come to us with a desire to learn and succeed, and College faculty and staff bear the responsibility to help students channel their resiliency and drive into their coursework. GRIT has sought to do work based upon an equity model, meeting students where they are and capitalizing upon their strengths rather than a deficit model. The Initiative has sought ways to encourage and support the faculty and the institution in the collective effort to more fully engage all students. During 2015-2016, GRIT has been organized around four key pillars: authentic engagement, experiential learning, growth mindset, and social support.

Authentic Engagement

Institutional Learning Outcome #5

The outcome reads, “Upon completion of the course, a student demonstrates a level of engagement in the subject matter that enables and motivates the integration of acquired knowledge and skills beyond the classroom.” The four competencies supporting the ILO are a) interest (enjoyment of the learning process), b) valuing the academic task beyond the task itself, c) self-efficacy/empowerment (belief in one’s ability to achieve a goal or an outcome), and d) professional relevance (application of course content to possible professional life).

In Fall 2013, the College had 12,570 course SLO assessments of ILO #5. 11,150 of those mastered the SLO (88.7%). In Fall 2014, the College had 23,692 assessments of ILO #5. 20,661 of those mastered the SLO (87.2%). In Fall 2015, the College had 27,514 assessments of ILO #5. 24,926 of those mastered the SLO (90.6%).

Since last year’s report, three additional departments mapped course SLOs to ILO #5 – Communications, Dance, and Life Science. The following 16 departments have assessed course SLOs mapped to ILO #5: Art, Business, Communications, Counseling, Dance, Earth Science, Education/ECE, English, Health Science, Life Science, Math, Music, Philosophy and Social Science, Photo/Fashion, Physical Science, Theater Arts.

Professional Development

GRIT and The Center for Teaching Excellence have sent out a survey to collect examples of activities and assignments used by SMC faculty members to effectively engage their students. We plan to put these examples together in the form of a toolkit that faculty members will be able to access and use to develop their own class activities and assignments. The survey can be accessed on the GRIT webpage by clicking on Objective 12 in the Master Plan for Education 2015-2016 Update tasked the GRIT committee, Academic Affairs, and Student Affairs to organize and begin operating an Applied Learning program that will expand and support applied learning experiences and volunteer opportunities for students. In partnership with the GRIT committee, The Career Services Center, and Interdisciplinary Studies, the Applied Learning coordinator will start up the office by identifying applied learning opportunities in a few key areas/course, and develop processes to track student participation and experiences, collect assessment data, and provide support for faculty members who want to offer service learning. The Applied Learning program operates through the Career Services Center and has been preparing to provide students with educational opportunities through placement in non-profit organizations, government organizations, educational institutions and/or private businesses and corporations. The Applied Learning program, working with the GRIT committee, has been developing the structure and infrastructure for the program. The program will support faculty by doing such things as scheduling, completing administrative paperwork, and doing data collection. The program will offer class presentations and orientations, guidance for faculty members and students on appropriate placement sites, and a bank of “reflection” assignments that ask students to connect the applied learning experience to course content which faculty members can use as a resource. This spring the program will pilot applied learning in several sections, and in the fall semester several more classes from a variety of disciplines will incorporate applied learning either as a requirement of the course curriculum, or as an option in lieu of an assignment of the same rigor. The Applied Learning program is currently developing partnerships with local organizations to build and sustain reciprocal relationships that meet the needs of the organization while also advancing the learning objectives of both the students and their instructor. The program continues to reach out to faculty members across campus to encourage participation in applied learning opportunities.
It is important to note that the Applied Learning program will collaborate with the Legal Pathways program to provide learning opportunities for its students. Those students are required to have practical experience in the field. Without the support of the Applied Learning program, SMC would face a significant challenge meeting the experiential requirements of the Legal Pathways program.

Growth Mindset

When students and educators have a growth mindset they understand that intelligence and skills can be developed in much the same way a muscle grows stronger over time with practice. With enough practice, anyone can draw, do math, write, etc. Students can learn if they focus on how to improve and make the effort rather than being concerned with how innately smart or talented they might be.

The following explanation of a Growth Mindset is presented on the GRIT homepage:

> We all face challenges in our everyday lives: fixing a flat tire that comes at the worst possible time, missing your bus, or getting scheduled to work at the same time you’re supposed to take a midterm. And we have all shown determination and hard work, what some call grit, to meet these challenges. Wouldn’t it be great if we could take that same determination and apply it to the challenges we face in school, challenges like a complex math problem or a really tough reading assignment? Teachers can help students direct their grit to these tasks in a number of ways. They can make it clear how what we learn in the classroom applies to the real world. They can also encourage students to seek help in the form of counseling sessions, office hours, and tutoring. We all have grit. We just need some help in applying it where it really counts!

Professional Development

In 2015, GRIT and the Center for Teaching Excellence developed a tool to help faculty members create syllabi that invite students to become “insiders” to the learning process. The document, a worksheet titled “Growth Mindset in Your Syllabus,” can be accessed on the GRIT webpage by clicking the “Growth Mindset Syllabus” link (http://www.smc.edu/ACG/DistrictPlanningPolicies/GRIT/Documents/Faculty/GRIT_Growth_Mindset_Syllabus.pdf).

The worksheet presents a series of questions intended to help faculty members consider how their syllabi could encourage a growth mindset. Questions are organized according to a series of areas in a typical syllabus. For example, a question in the area named “Course Description” asks, “How does the description invite students into something they can accomplish?” A question in the area named Grade Scale/Grading asks, “How does the scale provide students the opportunity to recuperate from mistakes?” GRIT and the Center presented this tool during a breakout session at the Fall 2015 Opening Day and will present it again during a breakout session at the Spring 2016 Flex Day.

Speakers

This year, GRIT has focused on bringing speakers whose stories align with the theme of growth mindset. Speakers are one of the many ways GRIT seeks to raise students’ awareness of the GRIT initiative and how it can help them achieve their goals. Hearing professionals in various fields recount their stories of hardship (both personal and academic), and how they overcame those difficulties in order to achieve success is a great way for students to directly see how they can apply growth mindset to their own lives and how it can help them succeed.
The SMC Associates generously co-sponsor each event, providing a luncheon where the speakers can sit down and have one-on-one conversations with students to further discuss their stories and answer questions. GRIT also seeks co-sponsorship and speaker ideas from various departments in order to reach as wide a segment of the SMC student population as possible. Additionally, in order to help expose students to the ideas of growth mindset, the Associates ask every speaker that it supports to talk about something they overcame in their life.

Here is a list of 2015-2016 speakers GRIT has helped bring to campus:

Fall 2015: Dr. Gene Siegel, MD: Losers Can Sometimes Be Winners – A Very Personal Journey in Academia (with a side trip to a world of high paying, societally important, and deeply rewarding health care jobs that you never heard of)

Dr. Gene Siegal – Robert W. Mowry Endowed Professor of Pathology and director of the Anatomic Pathology Division at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, UAB Health System Executive Vice-Chair of Pathology and Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, London – spoke about his research on bone tumors (a field where he is a recognized world authority) and related conditions, and new developments in the field of cancer biology. Co-sponsored by the SMC Earth Science, Life Science, and Physical Sciences and SMC Associates.

Spring 2016: Illuminating Inequity: Rosa Moreno’s Quest for Justice

Rosa Moreno—who lost both hands in a factory accident in Mexico—will provide a “front lines” perspective on some of the devastating inequities and safety issues for workers in manufacturing facilities around the world, and the way corporate policies contribute to a corroboration of the observation, “Americans lose jobs; foreign workers lose limbs.” Co-sponsored by the SMC Associates, SMC Global Citizenship, and SMC Health Services Center.

Spring 2016: Dr. Gabe Crenshaw: The Historical and Contemporary Implications of Racism and the Impact on Modern Day Society

Dr. Gabe Crenshaw—psychologist and gifted clinician who lectures on neuroscience at USC, on-air television and radio personality popularly known as ‘Dr. Gabe,’ and host of his digital media program “Mental Minute w/ Dr. Gabe”— will discuss his personal story of growing up with hardships and becoming a successful psychologist/clinician. Co-sponsored by the SMC Associates and SMC’s Black Collegians program.

Spring 2016: Helena Lazaro: Beyond Survival

Helena Lazaro—an advocate for sexual assault victims at the nonprofit Peace Over Violence, and the West Coast Director for Natasha’s Justice Project (which works to end the rape kit backlog)—shares candidly about her experiences. Through recounting the details of her abduction, cold case, and advocacy work, she addresses the importance of tenacity in times of adversity, and the ability we carry within us to not only heal from trauma, but also use it as a catalyst for growth and change. Co-sponsored by the SMC Associates and SMC’s GRIT program.

Mini-Grants

In Fall 2015, GRIT focused on funding speakers and professional development opportunities intended to develop students’ growth mindset. GRIT agreed to support nine faculty members who applied to attend growth mindset-related conferences and trainings.
GRIT is currently working with the STEM program to bring Mathemagician Arthur Benjamin to campus to speak to students. The mini-grant application describes Arthur Benjamin’s feats as entertaining and fun, and will help promote a growth mindset. What can appear to be “magical” or a result of innate math genius results from the strategy of breaking large problems into smaller, more manageable, and less intimidating problems, as well as a lot of practice.

Social Support

Messaging to Students

GRIT has employed two approaches to educate students about one of the key concepts associated with the initiative, specifically growth mindset. First, the initiative developed a slogan, “GROW YOU MIND. GROW YOUR LIFE” to effectively communicate the theme of growth mindset. Working with SMC’s marketing department, GRIT had T-shirts with the slogan made and distributed them to students on VIP Welcome Day. Second, the initiative created and located posters around the SMC campuses. The posters focus on the Growth Mindset theme. This campaign showcases tangible behaviors and attitudes associated with being a “successful student.” Using the posters to promote these concepts widely around SMC (posting in classrooms and common areas) we hope to encourage students and remind faculty members how to support student success in very simple, tangible ways.

Additionally, GRIT plans to capture student video statements to be posted on the initiative’s webpage. Students will be asked talk on video about a challenge they overcame since they have been at SMC, and how they did it. They will also be asked to talk about any SMC supports they have used. Students who are involved in variety of groups and programs on campus such as President’s Ambassadors, Black Collegians, Adelante, or Associated Students, initially will be asked to participate. We hope these videos will inspire the broader student population to contribute their own videos.

Non-Cognitive Counseling/SuccessNavigator

Efforts continue to embed non-cognitive assessment and counseling into the Counseling 20 curriculum. Since Fall 2014 well over 4,000 SMC students have taken SuccessNavigator, a non-cognitive assessment tool and had their results interpreted in class by a specialized counselor. An evaluation measurement is administered immediately following the presentation and students overwhelmingly report that their results are accurate, that they intend to take steps to improve one or more of their non-cognitive skills, and that the class discussion has provided them with ideas and resources to improve their non-cognitive skill set. The administration of the tool is now being expanded beyond Counseling 20 to include students in EOPS and Guardian Scholars. A GRIT Work Group sub-committee has been formed to work with Institutional Research to determine the actual impact of the tool by conducting a control group comparison study. The results of this research will inform the GRIT Work Group about the future direction of our non-cognitive efforts.

GRIT Club

Students who have served on the GRIT Committee have begun organizing a GRIT club. They have an advisor and plan to promote the club beginning in the spring semester. Though the specific work of the club will ultimately be determined by its membership, the founding students envision the club helping students liaison with GRIT, providing peer support and encouragement, recommending grit and growth mindset speakers and workshops that students would like to see offered.

10-A AUTHORIZATION OF PARTIAL PRE-PAYMENT OF RENT TO COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES FOR GROUND LEASE AT MALIBU CIVIC CENTER

Authorization of payment of $1,813,778.79 to the County of Los Angeles for reimbursement of its costs of capital charges for design and construction of the Wastewater Facility, to be applied as a prepayment of rent for a ground lease agreement. Payment is to be within ten days of receipt of a signed and fully executed lease agreement.

Comment: At a special meeting in Malibu on January 13, 2016 the Board of Trustees authorized the Superintendent/President to enter into an agreement with Los Angeles County for a ground lease of approximately 2.94 acres within the approximately 9.19 acre County of Los Angeles-owned and operated Malibu Civic Center Complex. SMC intends to construct and operate an educational facility, the Santa Monica College Malibu Campus, at this site.

The lease stipulates that SMC shall pay for the capital charges for the design and construction of the Wastewater Treatment Facility within 30 days. The amount is now known, and the County of Los Angeles has paid $1,813,778.79 to the City of Malibu for both SMC’s share and its share. Per a written request from the County, SMC has agreed to accelerate the reimbursement of this payment to within ten days of receipt of a signed and fully executed lease agreement and receipt of evidence of payment.
