Program Deactivations

The following programs are being deactivated for a variety of reasons. The majority are Department Certificates that are being eliminated because they have been converted to Certificates of Achievement. Changes in CA Ed Code mandate that Department Certificates of 16 or more units be Certificates of Achievement to align with Federal Financial Aid requirements. Many lower unit Department Certificates were also converted to Certificates of Achievement because awarding of the latter generates apportionment under the new Student Centered Funding Formula, while the awarding of Department Certificates does not.

9-D LICENSING AGREEMENT WITH SMC FOUNDATION

Authorize Superintendent/President to enter into a licensing agreement with the Santa Monica College Foundation to provide joint use of space at the Center for Media and Design (CMD) to offer food service and promote College food security programs.

Comment: Student and staff at CMD do not have affordable food choices available to them. The Santa Monica College Foundation is interested in assisting the College in providing food service at CMD with generated revenue earmarked to support the College’s food security programs. To facilitate the Foundation’s assistance, it is necessary to enter into a license agreement providing the Foundation with joint use of the food service area. The Foundation will be able to harness its charitable giving connections to provide affordable food choices to students while at the same time reducing District capital outlays for food space. This pilot program at CMD is limited to that location and there is no intention of expanding it to the Main Campus.

Comment: The Adopted Budget needs to be amended to reflect the totals of the departmental budgets. The current system of the Los Angeles County Office of Education requires Board approvals each month for budget adjustments. Only the net amount of the transfers in or out of the object codes is shown. In addition to the budget adjustments, transfers result from requests by managers to adjust budgets to meet changing needs during the course of the year.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 11  ACCEPTANCE OF GRANTS AND BUDGET AUGMENTATION

Requested Action: Approval/Ratification
Requested by: Jennifer Merlic, Vice President, Academic Affairs
Reviewed by: Christopher M. Bonvenuto, Chief Director, Business Services
Approved by: Elaine Polachek, Executive Vice President

Title of Grant: Strong Workforce Program – Local Share Round 2: FY 2017-18
Granting Agency: California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office
Augmentation Amount: $81,114 (Amended Allocation $1,310,863)
Matching Funds: Not applicable
Performance Period: July 1, 2017 – December 31, 2019
Summary: The Local share of the Strong Workforce Program funds require colleges to increase the quantity of career technical education (CTE) enrollments, courses, completions, job placements, and wage gains while to improving the quality of CTE. Santa Monica College qualified for increase in incentive funding due to a calculation correction by The California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office in the amount of $81,114. These funds will be used in program investments to target and support outcomes that increase the annual number of students who earn degrees, credentials, certificates or specified skill sets to prepare them for an in-demand job; increase the number of students transferring annually to a UC or CSU; decrease the average number of units accumulated by students earning associates degrees; increase the percentage of CTE students who report being employed in their field of study; and reduce equity gaps across all of the above measures through faster improvements among traditionally underrepresented student groups, with the goal of cutting achievement gaps.

Title of Grant: Strong Workforce Program – Local Share Round 3: FY 2018-19
Granting Agency: California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office
Augmentation Amount: <$22,496> (Amended Allocation $1,300,145)
Matching Funds: Not applicable
Performance Period: July 1, 2018 – December 31, 2020
Summary: The Local share of the Strong Workforce Program funds require colleges to increase the quantity of career technical education (CTE) enrollments, courses, completions, job placements, and wage gains while improving the quality of CTE.
Santa Monica College incentive funding decreased due to a calculation correction by The California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office in the amount of <$22,496>. These funds are used in program investments to target and support outcomes that increase the annual number of students who earn degrees, credentials, certificates or specified skill sets to prepare them for an in-demand job; increase the number of students transferring annually to a UC or CSU; decrease the average number of units accumulated by students earning associates degrees; increase the percentage of CTE students who report being employed in their field of study; and reduce equity gaps across all of the above measures through faster improvements among traditionally underrepresented student groups, with the goal of cutting achievement gaps.

Title of Grant: Improving Online CTE Pathways Grant Program
Granting Agency: Foothill-De Anza Community College District on behalf of the California Virtual Campus – Online Education Initiative (CVC-OEI)
Award Amount: $500,000
Matching Funds: Not applicable
Performance Period: July 1, 2019 – June 30, 2020
Summary: The California Virtual Campus – Online Education Initiative (CVC-OEI) is a collaborative effort among California Community Colleges to ensure that significantly more students are able to complete their educational goals by increasing both access to and success in high quality online courses. Through a subaward agreement with Foothill-De Anza Community College District, SMC will use the Improving Online CTE Pathway grant funds to build faculty, departmental, and institutional capacity to offer high quality online CTE programming. This project will include new course/program development and improvements to existing online CTE pathways, as well as, professional development for both new and experienced online faculty for CTE faculty and non-CTE faculty who teach general education courses required for the Associate Degree for Transfer (ADT). Specifically, this project will develop new short-term programs in Administration of Justice, User Experience, Digital Design, Interior Architecture, and Digital Production in Architecture; provide professional development workshops, instructional design assistance, and mentoring to faculty as they develop and/or enhance their online courses; adopt an online course rubric that peer course reviewers will use to strengthen both new and existing online courses; and develop online math courses, using online proctoring software to maintain the integrity of the classroom.

Title of Grant: Infusing Liberal Arts in UCLA Undergraduate Engineering Education
Granting Agency: University of California, Los Angeles (with funding from the Teagle Foundation)
Award Amount: $35,715
Matching Funds: Not applicable
Performance Period: July 1, 2019 – June 30, 2022
Summary:
The Teagle Foundation works to support and strengthen liberal arts education with the aim to serve as a catalyst for improvement of teaching and learning in the arts and sciences.
Santa Monica College, as a subrecipient of the Teagle Foundation Funding to UCLA, will work with UCLA and six other community colleges to broaden and deepen exposure of liberal arts in engineering curricula. The existing requirements of engineering majors will be more inclusive of liberal arts foundations without penalizing the technical rigor of these courses. UCLA is working with community colleges to develop an understanding and a shared curriculum so that all first-year students have an introduction to engineering enhanced by the liberal arts perspective.
The shared curriculum will smooth the transition for community college students when they transfer to four-year engineering schools. Through this grant, SMC’s Engineering Program will redesign the curriculum for its introductory course (ENGR 1) to include discussions regarding the impact of engineering solutions in global, environmental, and societal contexts.
SMC will also develop and pilot student-led projects for delivery in ENGR 1.

SUBJECT: CONTRACT FOR SOCIAL MEDIA AND CREATIVE DIGITAL AGENCY – REGIONAL STRONG WORKFORCE

SUBMITTED BY: Vice-President, Academic Affairs

REQUESTED ACTION: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees approve an amendment to the contract with Collier Simon for Social Media and Creative Digital Agency – Regional Strong Workforce for the period of April 3, 2019 through June 20, 2020 for an additional amount of $150,00 (amended total amount $1,250,000).

FUNDING SOURCE: Strong Workforce – Regional Strategy, Innovation & Marketing

SUMMARY: Santa Monica College is the lead college for regional marketing on behalf of the 19 Los Angeles Colleges. Collier Simon is the advertising agency responsible for social media marketing (Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat, Twitter, YouTube) for the 19 LA Community Colleges. As part of the consulting work with Collier Simon, recommendations are made to the team to increase spending in certain areas. These recommendations are based on an analysis of the media strategy of SMC’s for-profit competitors. Due to the government bidding process, the college is not allowed to have these conversations with vendors ahead of time or during the RFP process. In addition, many of the recommendations are in response to market conditions, requiring our team to be responsive in order to remain competitive in social media. Competitors increase their spending and advertising budgets in response to market conditions (like an increase in people searching for education, or an event related to education that is then used to increase awareness of their brands). Collier Simon will make recommendations to the college team based on changes in the market. The team analyzes those recommendations and determines whether or not to invest additional funds based on the overall marketing plan. The request to increase the production by $150,000 is in response to an analysis of for-profit competitors’ social strategy. The regional marketing team needs more assets (videos, photos, campus event coverage) in order to keep up with the content required to match competitors (in social channels: Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat, Twitter, YouTube).

Overview
Santa Monica College’s Grants Office is responsible for the identification, development, and submission of grant applications to public and private sources, as well as direct and indirect grant management carried out in conjunction with the grant team. These grant-funded projects provide financial support to faculty/staff, departments and programs, and the institution in general to assist with the development, implementation, and ongoing maintenance of instructional and student service programs in support of SMC’s mission, vision, strategic initiatives, supporting goals, and institutional learning outcomes. Each year, the Grants Office measures program success based on the following:

1) Total grant funds managed each year by the college;
2) Number of grants submitted
3) Number of grants awarded
4) Success rate
5) Diversity of grant funding sources
6) Number of grants that align with the Mission, Strategic Initiatives and priorities, and Institutional Learning Outcomes of the College
7) Diversity of programs on campus engaged in the grant process

2018-2019 Highlights

- SMC received roughly $1.2 million in new grant revenue and nearly $780,000 to support 2018-2019.
- SMC received its first grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to enhance the relevance of existing Art History coursework and thereby strengthen student engagement through the digital documentation of culturally significant artwork, architecture, and other visual works in west Los Angeles.
- SMC’s Upward Bound program received supplemental funding from the U.S. Department of Education to provide additional activities and services to promote STEM learning and careers, including a Chemistry 9 Boot Camp, to students participating in the Upward Bound Program.
- SMC’s Film Program once again received a fellowship grant from the Hollywood Foreign Press Association to fund student film projects in Film 33, Directing the Short Film class, as well as two additional awards to support new equipment and an endowed scholarship.
- The Center for Health and Well-Being received a two-year $250,000 grant from the California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office to strengthen institutional capacity to provide mental health services to vulnerable and underserved student populations through partnership development with community based organizations, including Los Angeles County Mental Health.
- The Veterans Resource Center received a two-year $200,000 grant from the California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office to build the Center’s capacity to improve and enhance the educational outcomes of student veterans, targeting female veterans and students struggling in math.
- The Sustainable Technologies Program, with assistance from the Grants Office, successfully submitted its final report for SMC’s first National Science Foundation grant, funded through the Advanced Technological Education Program. The success of this first grant was essential to future collaborations with the National Science Foundation. Since receiving this award, SMC has received one additional award and is awaiting notice from the NSF for two more grants.

Grants Submitted, Awarded, and Rate of Success

In 2018-2019, SMC managed $4.86 million in grant funds through 32 grant projects funded by local, state, and federal organizations, both public and private, all of which are supportive of the college’s mission. This is an increase of nearly $170,000 in total annual revenue generated through grants, despite the fact that the number of grant funded projects decreased from 37 in 2017-2018 to 32 in 2018-2019. The increase in revenue is due primarily to new grants from the state to support the Veterans Resource Center and increased funding from the federal government to support student acquisition of STEM skills through the Upward Bound program.

In total, the Grants Office received 17 new awards that had a value of $1.2 million, including nearly $780,000 to support the 2018-2019 year directly. As indicated in Table 1, while the college submitted a record number of grant requests (29) and received the second highest number of new grant awards (17) in the past 14 years, the total amount of new funding was the second lowest in the past 14 years.

This conflicting and disheartening outcome demonstrates why it is important to evaluate grant development efforts using multiple measures. Overall, the goal is to submit at least two grants per month and generate a success rate of 50% or higher, which was achieved this year. In addition, while the expectation is always to generate new revenue, it is also important to pursue grant opportunities that address institutional needs, interests, and concerns. At times, those interests and needs are best addressed via smaller grants that provide targeted support without significant effort. It is true that not every program needs a million dollar grant nor can every program utilize a million dollar grant. However, this may reduce the total value of grants awarded despite no decrease in time, effort, or benefit.

Diversity of Funding Sources

For this reason, the Grants Office also measures its effectiveness by the diversity of grants submitted and awarded during the year. While public grants tend to be larger and more comprehensive, they have burdensome reporting requirements and have a greater time and effort impact on SMC’s infrastructure, particularly Fiscal Services, Purchasing, and Institutional Research. As such, there has been a strong push in the last decade to increase the number of private grants submissions, which often have a lower cash value, but fewer reporting requirements and are more flexible in the use of funds. Table 2 provides an overview of grants submitted in 2018-2019 by source.

Table 2 demonstrates how the college can increase the number of submissions and awards, but yet generate significantly fewer resources than in years past. In 2018-2019, the Grants Office, working through the Santa Monica College Foundation as a private not-for-profit organization to submit and receive private grants, increased the number of private grant submissions from 13 in 2017-2018 to 16 as a means for augmenting state funds and addressing students, faculty, and program needs. However, while there was an increase in the number of private grant submissions and awards, there was a sizeable drop in new federal funding. In 2017-2018, SMC received nearly $2.5 million in new federal funding and more than $500,000 in federal funding to support the 2017-2018 fiscal year specifically. However, in 2018-2019, SMC only received $140,500 in new federal funding, despite the fact that the college submitted the same number of federal requests in 2018-2019 as in 2017-2018 and received one additional award. In addition, while SMC received the same number of new state awards, none of them was equivalent to the $2 million Award of Innovation grant received in 2017-2018. On the other hand, SMC increased the total funding awarded through private grant submissions by more than $50,000.

With the increase in private funding and the decrease in federal funding, this is the first year in the past 14 years that SMC received more private grant funding than federal grant funding. In years past, the majority of revenue generated through grants came from public sources, primarily the U.S. Department of Education and the Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office. While funding from public sources accounted for 86% of the grant funds awarded in 2018-2019, the increase in private funds to 13% is noteworthy. Private grants are a historically untapped opportunity for the college and provide an option for established programs that want to do something new and/or need additional resources to serve their students. In 2018-2019, private grants:

- purchased new film equipment for the highly successful Film Program;
- developed new curriculum in battery storage in the Sustainable Technologies Program;
- supported extracurricular activities and university visits for students in the Community College to Law School Pathway;
- produced two new short films in SMC’s Film 33 class;
- provided scholarships for students in SMC’s STEM Program; and
- offered financial support to students impacted by the Woolsey Fire.

Programs, like the Law Pathway and the Film Program, are too small to be competitive for a large state or federal grant, but benefit greatly from private funding. As such, the ability to increase the private/public ratio is not only an accomplishment, but also essential to an effective grant development function. The Grants Office will continue to pursue private funding to fill the gaps between existing resources and student, faculty, and program needs, while also submitting federal and state funding that aligns with institutional goals, outcomes, and priorities.
Alignment with Institutional Mission, Priorities, and Outcomes
In addition to measuring program effectiveness by the number of grants submitted and awarded, the Grants Office measures its effectiveness by the number of grants submitted that address the mission of the College, its Strategic Initiatives, and/or its Institutional Learning Outcomes. In 2018-2019, 96.5% of the grants submitted by or on behalf of the college addressed the college’s mission, its priorities, and its outcomes. The only grant submission that did not clearly align with SMC’s institutional priorities and outcomes was a grant to the Whiting Foundation to expand the capacity of the Santa Monica Review, the college’s literary magazine. The project supported the Mission and Supporting Goals of the college, but would not have helped the college achieve its initiatives had it been funded. Tables 3 (by number) and 4 (by dollar amount) provide a breakdown of grants submitted and awarded to support the 2018-2019 academic year and their alignment with SMC’s 2017-2022 Strategic Initiatives and Objectives. Many grants support more than one strategic priority, and thus the total adds to more than the actual number of grants submitted and awarded.

In the past, there was greater opportunity within SMC’s strategic initiatives, which included CTE enhancement and expansion, global citizenship, and sustainability, among others, to pursue grant funding. However, with the new initiatives, there is less diversity in grant-eligible initiatives. As such, as outlined in Table 4, the majority of grant funding in 2018-2019 targeted initiatives one and two, which focus on student success and pathway development respectively. The other initiatives are less suitable for one-time funding and/or are the responsibility of the institution to fund.

The Grants Office also tracks grant submissions by Institutional Learning Outcomes. The following table provides an overview of grants submitted and awarded by ILO. Again, many grants support more than one outcome, and thus the total adds to more than the actual number submitted/awarded.
Given how broad in scope the Strategic Initiatives are, the Grants Office once again tracked grants by their primary focus in relation to overarching institutional indicators of effectiveness. The Grants Office used the Institutional Effectiveness Dashboard and the subcomponents of the Strategic Priorities to identify seven core focus areas for the college, including:

1) access to postsecondary enrollment
2) basic skills acquisition
3) completion (including time to completion)
4) transfer
5) job attainment
6) student equity
7) cost of education

Table 6 provides an overview of grants submitted and awarded in each of the core priorities. As with Strategic Initiatives and Institutional Learning Outcomes, individual grants may address more than one focus area, and thus the total number is greater than the actual number submitted/awarded.

Table 6 demonstrates, in 2018-2019, SMC submitted relatively the same number of grants in each area with the exception of Basic Skills Acquisition. This is not surprising given the state’s move away from remediation of student deficiencies toward completion of student goals.
Table 7 provides an overview of the amount of money allocated to each area of focus.

Lastly, Table 8 demonstrates how grant submissions and awards for the 2018-2019 academic year aligned with the Board of Trustees’ 2017-2020 Core Priorities. Several submissions/awards aligned with more than one priority; as such, the total number is more than the total number submitted and awarded.

Diversity of SMC Programs Engaged in Grant Development/Management

The Grants Office provides support to programs throughout the college that are interested in pursuing grant resources. As such, the office tracks the number of programs on campus that the office is able to assist through grant development and/or assistance with grant management. Table 7 provides an overview of the programs/departments assisted by the Grants Office in 2018-2019.

Each year the Grants Office strives to work with new programs and services in an effort to ensure campus-wide support. This year marked the first time in the past 15 years that the Grants Office worked with the Art Department. This collaboration produced SMC’s first grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. This project, entitled “Mapping and Preserving the Hidden Histories of Santa Monica,” will explore the diverse stories of west Los Angeles, using the region’s visual art to move beyond the dominant narrative and incorporate the lesser known stories of color that have helped to shape the region. Working collaboratively with students and community organizations, Art History faculty will then integrate these stories into their courses as a means for engaging the college’s diverse student population and building community connection. Faculty will house these stories in a digital database that provides faculty and students with access to non-linear knowledge that can move through time and establishes a foundation that fosters deeper context with the material. Once established, the digital database will serve as a resource for other humanities programs interested in using visual studies as a means for strengthening learning and promoting engagement.

Summary

In conclusion, Santa Monica College, working in conjunction with the Santa Monica College Foundation, had another successful year with regard to grant development and management. The grants effort achieved its goals and objectives to increase grant-generated resources, expand program participation in grants, and address the college’s core goals and priorities. In addition, the Grants Office worked with numerous programs on campus to achieve their individual goals, including but not limited to the Art Department, the Law School Pathway, and the Film Program. As the college enters the 2019-2020 academic year, grants will continue to provide financial support to the college as it works to achieve its mission, priorities, and outcomes, including its goal to close equity gaps within three years.
