APPENDIX A  SMC Student Equity Plan Executive Summary
IV. SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT

- Broad Fest — September 1, 2019: This is a free community festival held at the Broad each year to kick off the season with a celebration of music, theater, art, dance and community engagement. This year, the plaza between the three buildings will be used to introduce people to the Broad Stage. The event will be preceded by an invitation-only brunch with City officials.

- iParq, the new parking control system using license plate recognition, has been activated on schedule and on budget. Sales are on-line and in person. So far, 1,300 permits have been purchased, totaling over $90,000. A reminder will be sent later in August. The implementation team was commended for its combined efforts in getting the system operational.

- Fall 2019

  - Enrollment Update: Enrollment is finally starting to stabilize with enrollment for Fall 2019 slightly ahead of Fall 2018. Enrollment of non-resident (primarily F-1 students) continues to decline. A complete report will be prepared for the Board of Trustees.

  - SMC Promise: The first cohort of SMC Promise students began in Fall 2018 and grew to 1,881 students, including 29 who started in Spring 2019, representing 316 high schools. The total allocation for 2018-2019 was $1,040,845, with an additional $1,000,000 of SMC’s allocation for Student Equity and Achievement Program that was set aside to augment the program.

In July 2019, the Chancellor’s Office released guidelines for College Promise programs that changed the interpretation moving forward. The first major issue is the requirement that students enroll full-time (12 units or more) including during intersessions to be covered by these funds. It is impossible to take 12 or more units during an intersession, so this new information changes the eligibility pool and discourages acceleration through intersessions. This has been shared with the Chancellor’s Office and advocacy work is in motion for changing this. The second issue is the loss of eligibility for students who drop below 12 units. The new guidelines state that a student dropping all coursework, or dropping below full-time causes the student to lose eligibility going forward. This interpretation would mean that less than 50 percent of SMC Promise students in Fall 2018 would have been eligible to continue in Spring 2019. Adjustments will be made for the 2019-2020 cohort. It is clear that more frequent communication and interventions will be required to help more students stay in status.

Second Year Promise: SMC was allocated $1,686,953.50 for 2019-2020. Second year fees can only be paid for students who were first-time students the year before and who were full-time for all primary terms of the prior year. The first cohort produced 486 students who meet the second-year criteria, and an additional 141 students who did not participate in the first-year program have been identified as meeting the qualifications.
For 2019-2020, 3,748 students have been identified to be eligible. 3,516 have accepted the offer, and of those 2,400 have met all of the qualifications. That number will continue to grow.

A program has been developed to support the SMC Promise students to help them to make the transition. Next week, a transition seminar will held and 300 students have signed up. This activity will provide the opportunity for students to meet with other students, professors, learn about tutoring, financial aid and other support programs. In addition, a Promise Student Club will be created so the Promise students will be able to interact with each other.

– Pre-enrollment Activities: July 20, 2019. This is the fifth year of the Black Collegians Program offering a one-day summer bridge for first-time freshman. This year, 40 student participants will learn about financial aid, career services, interact with Black Collegians club officers, and take a tour of the Student Services Center. The Enrollment sprint was held on the same day in the Welcome Center in the new Student Services Building where 217 students checked in, 148 enrolled and of those, 76 students received financial and enrolled.

– Opening (Flex) Day – August 22, 2019: Faculty 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Classified 8 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. The theme: Working together to help students succeed.

– VIP Welcome Day – August 23, 2019: A full day of activities is planned for students and families, including the opening ceremony, morning workshops, lunch (the In-N-Out burger truck), and special receptions following lunch. The Resource Fair will be 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Comment: The Adopted Budget needs to be amended to reflect the totals of the departmental budgets. The current system of the Los Angeles County Office of Education requires Board approvals each month for budget adjustments. Only the net amount of the transfers in or out of the object codes is shown. In addition to the budget adjustments, transfers result from requests by managers to adjust budgets to meet changing needs during the course of the year.

Matching Funds: Not applicable
Performance Period: July 1, 2018 – June 30, 2019
Summary: CalWorks funds are used within the California Community College system as part of a larger effort to help students receiving public assistance or those in transition off of welfare to achieve long-term self-sufficiency. CalWorks funding helps students obtain access to vital services including work study, job placement, childcare, curriculum development and skills training. Due to the discontinuance of CalWorks childcare payments at the start of Spring 2019, a Declaration of Unused Funds was submitted to CalWorks on March 1, 2019. Santa Monica College received a notice of funding decrease in the amount of $52,328 to return unused funds net of a cost of living adjustment.

18-C 2019-2020 ANNUAL CONTRACTS AND CONSULTING

The annual award of competitive contracts bid through various state and local agencies allows SMC to leverage buying power through strategic sourcing and achieve commodity and service as well as reduce administrative cost. These indirect (MRO) contracts are targeted to the products and services which SMC routinely purchases. Leveraging the aggregate buying power and strategic sourcing is a process that moves SMC away from numerous individual procurements to a broader aggregate approach, allowing SMC to achieve savings ranging from 20 to 65 percent.

- Omnia Partners Cooperative Purchasing Contract R-TC-17006, with Amazon Business Prime Public Sector to 1/18/2022 with option to renew for three (3) additional two (2) year period for MRO supplies.
- GSA Contract GS-07F-0157M, with Galls, for the period from February 1, 2002 through January 31, 2022, Federal Supply Schedule 084 – Total Solutions for Law Enforcement

18-D ON-CALL ARCHITECTURAL/ENGINEERING PROFESSIONAL SERVICES FOR VARIOUS SCHEDULED MAINTENANCE PROJECTS UNDER $2 MILLION

Approve list of qualified on-call consultants to provide engineering and architectural and related services on an on-call basis. While a firm must be on the approved list of on-call architects to be selected, this action does not guarantee that a consultant will be asked to submit on any project, nor that the consultant will receive any assignments. The volume of work assigned to consultants will be dependent on workload and funding available. The following firms are deemed prequalified to provide professional services:

1. SVA Architects
2. Carde Ten Architecture + Consulting
3. Rachlin Partners
4. Lionakis

Funding Source: Schedule Maintenance Funds, Unrestricted General Fund, Capital Outlay Fund

Comment: The Procurement Department solicited a Request for Qualifications (RFQ’s) for on-call professional Architecture Services to assess conditions, investigation and analysis for repair/replacement of existing building envelop projects, feasibility studies, Egress Planning, ADA Compliance Studies and other services. Requests for proposals will be solicited from the list of qualified firms as projects are identified.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 20

SUBJECT: SUPPORT FUNDING FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF BROAD STAGE FIVE-YEAR STRATEGIC PLAN

SUBMITTED BY: Superintendent/President

REQUESTED ACTION: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees:

1. Approve an investment of funds in the amount of $1,000,000 to The Broad Stage (TBS) to support implementation of a five-year strategic plan developed on behalf of TBS and approved by its Board of Directors. TBS is a California nonprofit public benefit corporation established in November 2006 as a supporting organization for Santa Monica College that provides for the presentation of programs of merit for public audiences and arts education programming for a range of audiences at the SMC Performing Arts Center. The SMC Superintendent/President and two members of the District’s Board of Trustees sit as members of the TBS Board of Directors.

2. Authorize the Superintendent/President to execute an agreement with TBS for terms of service related to provision of funding, such as blocks of tickets for students, arts education programs to benefit current and potential SMC students, program collaborations with SMC academic departments, career development opportunities for SMC students, and recognition of SMC support.

Background information is provided on the following pages.

BACKGROUND

In the late 1990s, Santa Monica College re-imagined its 4.5-acre satellite campus adjacent to downtown Santa Monica as a performing arts center: a home for SMC’s music department, a performance space for SMC’s dance department, and a venue for a yet-to-be established professional presenting company.

It took a decade for private fundraising to develop the architectural plans and for the college to secure public funding for construction, but in 2008, the campus proudly re-opened as the Santa Monica College Performing Arts Center, featuring its two stages—the 535-seat Eli and Edythe Broad Stage and the 120-seat Edye Second Space. Also on site was Madison Project, the nonprofit 501c3 formed two years earlier, soon to change its name to The Broad Stage (TBS) in recognition of the $10 million naming and endowment gift from The Eli and Edythe Broad Foundation received earlier that year.

Of note also was the establishment in 2008 of a new SMC department as a self-supported enterprise to provide for the operation and upkeep of the campus theaters. This SMC department and its SMC employees are responsible for staffing the stage crews, and for managing the rental of the theaters.

Eleven years and approximately 3,000 performances later—including academic performances, public presentations, and private uses—the Performing Arts Center and the Broad Stage have fulfilled Santa Monica College’s vision to be world class in performance, self-sustaining in operation, community based in focus, and exceptional in educational delivery.

SMC’s music and dance departments have made the Broad Stage their primary performance space, to the great benefit of student achievement and departmental advancement. As of fall 2019, music, housed at the satellite campus, operates with nine full-time faculty, up from five in 2008, and dance operates at six full-time faculty, up from three in 2008. Notable expansions of the programs include full productions of opera on the Broad Stage, with collaborations that have included SMC’s symphony orchestra, chamber choir, and dance; and dance instructional collaborations with local professional dance ensembles. Each year, music mounts approximately 40 student concerts and dance showcases a dozen student performances.

The SMC operating department has consistently attracted top talent in stage crews, winning praise from internal and external users alike. The department is fully funded from external sources, able to provide the music and dance departments with exceptional resources at no cost to the district.

The presenting company, The Broad Stage, or TBS, has vaulted the venue to become a leading cultural institution and community hub on the west side of Los Angeles, making incredible strides for a young institution in a dense market. As a venue that presents artists at the top of their game, TBS brings the very best the arts have to offer from around the world. Over the eleven years, the nonprofit has provided more than 1,350 public performances with more than 350,000 tickets sold, and has produced more than 240 free or very low cost arts education events. During this period, the organization has raised more than $36 million in total contributions, over and above the $10 million from the Eli and Edythe Broad Foundation, and earned more than $21 million in ticket sales.

NEW FIVE-YEAR STRATEGIC PLAN FOR TBS. Not surprisingly, over the eleven years some seasons as presented by TBS have been stronger than others. In addition, through this past June, there have been four different artistic directors. (Mr. Rob Bailis is starting this year as the fifth artistic director.) In general, fundraising, ticket sales, and support from the endowment have kept TBS at break even or close to break even most years, and SMC has been able to provide relief for TBS shortfalls by drawing on revenues earned from rentals. Year ten (FY 2017-18) was the exception. A historically large season intended to celebrate the Broad Stage’s Tenth Anniversary became weighted down at the start of the year by an exceptionally complex staged musical production together with a shortfall in contributions. Both the Broad Foundation and SMC stepped in to provide assistance—the Broad Foundation with a cash loan, and SMC by waiving a portion of its reimbursable costs. In search of greater organization stability, in February 2018, the Broad Foundation retained Mr. Brett
Egan, of Arts Manager LLC, to conduct a strategic plan process for TBS. Mr. Egan is a national expert in the arts management field and is familiar with Southern California.

The work was conducted in phases, ending with the December 2018 unanimous adoption of a five-year strategic plan by the TBS Board of Directors. The process drew on environmental and internal analyses, proposed a revised mission and values, proposed a strategic direction and key strategies, set forth an implementation plan, and provided a financial plan.

The environmental analysis notes that cultural organizations are responding to an imperfect world, and a changing environment, with a hard look at mission, as virtually all U.S.-based cultural organizations face decreasing participation trends and increasing competition from online substitutes. A cross-sector approach, focusing on social connection, health, and well-being, is encouraged by major funders and governments. At the same time, arts education is under duress, which provides an opportunity for cultural organizations. Multi-disciplinary presenters, embedded within institutions of higher learning, have natural advantage, and can leverage an existing culture of learning and civic engagement to provide a second layer of value for their patrons. The environmental analysis concludes that nonprofits must have dominant programming in their mission area, aggressive marketing—including institutional marketing, a growing family of generous supporters, and easy and enjoyable means for that family to contribute.

The internal analysis notes the Broad Stage’s intimacy, its breadth of programming, and its location. Its educational activities are highly respected and valued. However, the marketing department is tasked with selling a vast spread of content without the benefit of a strong “general argument” of a TBS brand position. Currently, season and staff have been cut and TBS does not enjoy room for artistic risk. These cuts have been made in FY 2017-18 and in FY 2018-19, and there are likely no more cuts to make. TBS is now a revenue challenge, not an expense challenge.

THE ROLE OF ART AND THE VITALITY OF OUR DIVERSE COMMUNITY. To move forward, TBS has adopted a new mission statement as advocated by the strategic plan study:

“The Broad Stage gathers artists, thinkers, and audiences to celebrate our shared humanity and expand the role art plays in the vitality of our diverse community.”

Within this mission are embedded values—art that engages, informs and educates; art that gathers, inspires, and unites; art that strengthens individuals and community; and the responsibility of art and cultural organizations to diversity and inclusion.

The mission commits TBS to key programming activities: robust conversation with transformational artists, thought leaders, community, and audience; leadership in the development of dialogue, community, sense of belonging, and intimacy; illustration of the power of art to strengthen the social and physical health of individuals and communities; and actively engaging, representing, and celebrating the full diversity of Santa Monica.

FEWER, BIGGER, BOLDER PROGRAMMING. The work in adopting this new position statement has positioned TBS to set out its “strategic direction”: a top-line vision for the primary investments to be made. Program is being re-calibrated to achieve “fewer, bigger, bolder”, each season organized by a thematic brand. Core programming will emphasize TBS’s dominance in a number of identified genres, and a decrease in other identified genres. Programming will include heightened collaboration with SMC and other Westside partners in technology, environment, and health, through thought leadership around annual themes; and with SMC and Silicon Beach enterprises through immersive work at the intersection of art and technology.

The strategic direction, mapped out in detail across five years, allows more dollars per production, in turn allowing programming to allocate resources to higher-profile artists and productions. Long term planning will yield more rigorous adherence to theme, deeper public programming, and more bold programmatic choices. Within the adopted strategic plan are goals and metrics related to ticket sales, membership, fill-rates, major contributors, Board of Directors development, and community advisory committee members. Metrics also include the introduction of a Fellows program and the strengthening of an internship program to provide SMC students and graduates with career development opportunities.

The plan unfolds in three phases: phase one, re-calibration and level-set in this current year, FY20 (adjusted programming with an annual theme of “Home”, marketing to define institutional voice, market research, and identified revenue goals); phase two, building from strength, FY21-22 (adding Scholar in Residence, an annual summit in partnership with SMC, a fellowship in partnership with SMC, a new community advisory committee, and identified revenue goals); and phase three, long-term capitalization, FY23-24 (programming back to FY18 level, 15th Anniversary season, return to higher levels of access-focused activities for educational programming, identified revenue goals, and working capital to three months).

FINANCIAL PLAN IN ACTION. The goal is for TBS to be structurally sound, without the unpredictability of relying on revenues from project-focused donors. The first benchmark is the elimination of a structural deficit by the end of FY20 (this current year). The programming budget slightly contracts this year and is planned to rebuild at approximately six percent per year over the next five years, as will the educational budget. Donations and ticket sales are projected at six percent annual growth while expense growth is restrained at three percent per year, yielding surpluses to pay back current loans and to rebuild cash. The take on the endowment is to be reduced to four-and-a-half percent annually, down from six percent, allowing principal to grow, rather than diminish.

EDUCATION AND COMMUNITY. In adopting its five-year strategic plan, the TBS Board of Directors was mindful that simultaneously, they would be recruiting for and hiring a new executive director. Funded by the Eli and Edythe Broad Foundation, the search focused on candidates who, among other attributes, would create a mutually-beneficial, sustainable, and joyous partnership between TBS and Santa Monica College.

Elements that would constitute such a partnership have been referenced in the strategic plan: internships and training for SMC students in arts administration, arts management, curriculum writing, and as teaching artists; an Annual Summit in partnership with SMC centered on a theme; continuation of Spotlight Talks and Master Classes; and coordinated and tangible learning opportunities that use main stage programming as a tool.

With the election of Mr. Rob Bailis as Artistic Director now in hand, the depth and commitment to mutual benefit and the opportunity for additional elements is clear. Mr. Bailis has offered his thoughts on the Broad Stage venue and its location on the Santa Monica College campus, as written for the upcoming issue of the TBS programming notes booklet and to be published on the Broad Stage website.

“I think from the minute I arrived on the campus and saw what a gift Santa Monica College is, how much of Los Angeles is represented here by individuals actively commuting from far and wide to be here each day from across the entire LA basin, to engage their lives, careers, and their deepest potential—whether just starting college, returning in midcareer, or lifelong learners in retirement enjoying the life of the mind in a diverse community, all walks of life are represented here. This is a beautiful demonstration of what it means to “be public” and what it is to do public good. Along with artistic excellence of all kinds, aesthetic and cultural diversity, and a true commitment to supporting artists equally at the best and their most vulnerable moments, the idea of public life and public good has always been a driver in my career—I felt that energy here and it absolutely inspired me. When I think about The Broad Stage in that context, as a proponent of the core values of this extraordinary community, and equally as a world class facility that is seeking the audience and the artists of the future, I get very excited about what we can do together.

“Santa Monica College itself is a dream come true for me—by fostering self determination, articulating all forms of diversity, supporting economic access, and driving social mobility, SMC fuels the very heart of our democracy and the performing arts have a major role to play in each aspect of this effort.”

SUCCESS TO DATE. For the season just concluded (FY2018-19), which had been reduced as recommended in the strategic plan, TBS exceeded its goal for tickets sold, exceeded its “fill rate” of seats sold, reduced expenses significantly below an already reduced budget, but fell slightly short of its contributed revenue goal. Importantly, the season narrowed the structural deficit by more than 85 percent from the prior year, and is well on track to eliminating the structural deficit entirely this year and in ongoing years.

PURPOSE OF FUNDS AND TERMS OF SERVICE. The support funding from Santa Monica College will be used to build a development staff appropriate to the revenue goals outlined in the strategic plan; and to provide TBS with the working capital needed to mount and advance productions consistent with the fewer, bigger, bolder strategy. Staff is confident that these funds are the appropriate lever to fully engage all the potential supporters of the Broad Stage—foundations, corporations, members, and audience—and to take the Broad Stage and Santa Monica College to new artistic and educational heights.

The issuance of support funding is to be preceded by an agreement executed between the Santa Monica College Superintendent/President and TBS setting the terms of service related to provision of funding, such as blocks of tickets for students, arts education programs to benefit current and potential SMC students, program collaborations with SMC academic departments, career development opportunities for SMC students, and recognition of SMC support.

Mr. Rob Bailis, SMC and TBS Artistic and Executive Director, and TBS Chief Operating Officer Matthew Rimmer will be on hand for questions.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 21

SUBJECT: ADOPTION OF EDUCATION PROTECTION ACCOUNT (EPA-PROP 55, AN EXTENSION OF PROP 30) EXPENDITURE PLAN

SUBMITTED BY: Vice-President, Business and Administration

REQUESTED ACTION: It is recommended that the Board of Trustees approve the revised plan to expend the 2018-2019 Education Protection Account (EPA) funds of $19,370,268 on instructional salaries.

SUMMARY: Proposition 55, The California Children’s Education and Health Care Protection Act of 2016, which was an extension of Proposition 30, temporarily raises the income tax rate for upper-income-earners through 2030-31 to fund the State’s Educational Protection Account which provides funding for local school districts and community colleges.

Under Proposition 55, Districts have sole authority to determine how the moneys received from the EPA are spent, provided that the governing board makes these spending determinations in open session of a public meeting of the governing board. Each entity receiving funds must annually publish on its web site an accounting of how much money was received from the EPA and how that money was spent. Additionally, the annual independent financial and compliance audit required of community colleges shall ascertain and verify whether the funds provided by the EPA have been properly disbursed and expended as required by law.

This recommendation is submitted to comply with Proposition 55 provisions requiring the governing board to make the spending determination in an open session of a public meeting of the governing board. The estimated EPA that our District will receive for 2018-2019, as of P2, is $19,523,072. Accordingly, the amount of EPA funds as of the recalculation of apportionment for 2017-18 decreased from the prior year P2 amount of $17,177,447 to $17,024,643 or a decrease of $152,804. The entire amount for 2018-19 less the adjustment in 2017-18 will be spent on instructional salaries. The EPA funds are NOT additional funds but rather are components of the “computational revenue” calculations and will be offset by a decrease in apportionment funding received by the State.

3. INTRODUCTION OF REAPPOINTED AND NEW MEMBERS
   At its meeting on July 2, 2019, the SMCCD Board of Trustees approved the following appointments to the Citizens’ Bond Oversight Committee for a two-year term, 2019-2021:
   - Patrick Acosta
   - Michael Dubin*
   - Elizabeth Greenwood
   - Sonya Sultan*

   *Reappointed for a third two-year term

   Note: The SMC Associated Students will recommend a student representative in August or September.

4. ELECTION OF CHAIR, 2019-2021
   This was postponed until the next meeting.
5. APPROVAL OF MINUTES OF CBOC MEETING, APRIL 21, 2019

Motion was made by Michael Dubin and seconded by Alfred Barrett to approve the minutes of the Citizens’ Bond Oversight Committee meeting held on April 24, 2019. It was unanimously approved with two abstentions (Patrick Acosta and Elizabeth Greenwood).

6. REPORTS and DISCUSSION

A. Bond Construction Projects

The Student Services Building is complete and the building opened on June 17, 2019. There are many punch list items still to be addressed.

There are currently two bond construction projects underway:

- Malibu Campus: project is continuing as planned with completion date of Spring 2022. 572 35-foot stone columns were installed to stabilize the soil. Solicitation for construction bids will go out in November.
- Santa Monica College Early Childhood Lab School: Project is continued as planned with completion date of June 2020

The following two joint projects are progressing:

- $20 million contribution to the SMMUSD project at John Adams Middle School (Auditorium)
- $20 million contribution to the City of Santa Monica for the Memorial Park project

The next big project is the Math/Science Extension, which will include an observatory. Construction for this 30-month long project will start in 2020.

- Board of Trustees Self-Assessment
- Board Goals and Priorities
- SMC Student Equity Plan
- Adoption of 2019-2020 Budget
- 2018-2019 Quarterly Report and 311Q
APPENDIX A

SUBJECT: SMC STUDENT EQUITY PLAN EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The full Santa Monica College Equity Plan will be submitted via the Chancellor’s Office NOVA system. The formatting required by this system is table-based and therefore not easily read. Thus, the content and background information have been assembled into this Executive Summary for use by the Santa Monica College community.

The 2019 Santa Monica College Equity plan was developed jointly by members of the Equity Steering Committee and the Academic Senate Joint Institutional Effectiveness Committee.

Where We Were: A Historical Perspective
Since Governor Jerry Brown proposed legislation to fund and support student equity in 2014 (SB 860), Santa Monica College (SMC) has actively designed and implemented programs and interventions to address equity gaps in student outcomes. The 2019 Student Equity Plan is a culmination of years of work and is built upon previous equity planning efforts. The reading of the 2019 plan should be grounded in an understanding of the foundational work that has enabled the College to effectively drive change towards more equitable student outcomes, including, but not limited to:

- Dedicated spaces and regular opportunities for authentic dialog around racial climate and student equity (for example, Confidential Equity Office Hours for Employees, Equity Brown Bags, Equity Speaks meetings, “Black Minds Matter” series);
- Activities designed to build literacy around student equity skills (for example, Teaching Men of Color courses, college-wide equity summits, workshops, data coaching program);
- Strategic and intentional equity planning (for example, facilitated planning meetings and retreats, attendance of planning institutes);
- Development and integration of equity tools to existing procedures and practices (for example, pathways rubric focused on integrating equity-minded practices, equity centered interview questions, job descriptions for the faculty hiring process, adding equity outcomes to the faculty ranking committee priorities); and,
- Equity student discussions that focus on African American and Latinx SMC students to get feedback about their experience in accessing services; experience inside the classroom with faculty; and their overall thoughts about the levels of essential support at SMC.

Importance of Language: The keywords and terms used to describe the equity imperative at Santa Monica College centers language that refrains from blaming the student for the lack of successful outcomes. Language used in this document was selected to challenge SMC cultural norms and move toward an equity minded view of the campus. To become a more equity centered campus, SMC must: 1) Become race-conscious and aware of racial identity 2) Regularly use disaggregated data to identify racialized pattern in outcomes 3) Reflect on racial consequences of taken-for-granted practices and policies 4) Exercise agency and self-monitor to produce racial equity 5) View the institution as a racialized space (Reference: https://cue.usc.edu/about/equity/equity-mindedness/).
These key terms will be vetted and modified as part of the implementation of equity activities outlined in this plan.

Key Terms Used in this document:

Diversity: Being composed of a “range of different elements”. In education, this is defined along the a broad range of dimensions of including race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, socio-economic status, age, physical abilities, religious beliefs, political beliefs, or other ideologies. It is extremely important to support and protect diversity because by valuing individuals and groups free from prejudice, and by fostering a climate where equity and mutual respect are intrinsic. http://www.qcc.cuny.edu/diversity/definition.html. The SMC climate must be shaped by an equity framework that enables the campus to achieve optimal “inclusion” of diverse students.

Equality: The state of being “equal”. The equity framework acknowledges that students who attend SMC have had varying access to educational opportunities. In order to ensure that every student, regardless of background, has an equal chance to succeed, SMC must create the conditions that produce equality in its educational outcomes.

Equity: Fair and just inclusion. An equitized society is one in which all can participate and prosper. The goal of equity must be to create conditions that allow ALL to reach their full potential. (Reference: Veronica Neal). Equity is an ongoing process and an accountability lens. It is not an end product.

Racial Equity: The application of justice to systems that have been out of balance with regards to race. Racial equity is both a process and an outcome. As an outcome, we achieve racial equity when race no longer determines one’s socioeconomic outcomes; when everyone has what they need to thrive, no matter where they live. As a process, we apply racial equity when those most impacted by structural racial inequity are meaningfully involved in the creation and implementation of the institutional policies and practices that impact their lives. https://www.centerforsocialinclusion.org/our-work/what-is-racial-equity/

Racially Minoritized: The Merriam-Webster dictionary defines a minority as “group of people who are different from the larger group in a country, area, etc., in some way (such as race or religion)” (minority. n.d.). According to the most recent US Census “Hispanic/Latino” are fast becoming a majority (48.7% compared to whites 52.2%) in Los Angeles https://www.census.gov/quickfacts/losangelescitycalifornia. This also holds true at Santa Monica College, where Black and Latinx students represent 49% of the College population. Despite this fact, Latinx and Black students at SMC are often referred “underrepresented minorities” at the College and do not succeed at the same rates as white students. In this example, the noun minority is not appropriate, the verb “minoritized” should be applied. These students, despite representing the majority of the college population, are facing stigmas and prejudices. A minoritized student, is a student that because of circumstances outside of his or her control, has to deal with issues of racism, ableism, and teachers presuming his or her competence. Reference: https://www.theodysseyonline.com/minority-vs-minoritize

Equity-Mindedness: refers to the perspective or mode of thinking exhibited by practitioners who call attention to patterns of inequity in student outcomes. Reference: http://cue.usc.edu/equity/equity-mindedness/

Cultural Humility: Cultural humility is a lifelong process of self-reflection, self-critique and commitment to understanding and respecting different points of view, and engaging with others humbly, authentically and from a place of learning (Tervalon & Murray-Garcia, 1998). Cultural humility is a unique framework for moving us toward equity. It is a philosophy that addresses the role of power and privilege in a system, as well as the imbalanced power of voice and power to make decisions (i.e., the power over and the power
Moreover, it is critical to ensure campus commitment and consistency across policies and procedures. Understanding institutional, interpersonal and internalized oppression is also an essential and ongoing aspect to this approach to organizational transformation.

Microaggression: Brief and commonplace daily verbal, behavioral and environmental indignities, whether intentional or unintentional, that communicate hostile, derogatory, or negative racial slights and insults to the target person or group, and are expressed in three forms: microassaults, microinsults and microinvalidations. “ (Sue, et al., 2007, p.72)

Privilege: an unearned advantage given by society to some people but not all.

Power: The capacity, opportunity, ability influence or direct the behavior or the course of events.

Oppression: systemic, pervasive inequality that is present throughout society and that benefits people with more privilege and harms those with fewer privileges.

Unconscious Bias: Unconscious bias applies to how we perceive other people. We are all biased and becoming aware of our biases will help us mitigate them in our work [with students].” — NX Leaders (2012)

Culturally Responsive: Culturally Responsive recognizes the importance of including an individual’s cultural references in all aspects of learning (Ladson-Billings, 1994).

Introduction
Santa Monica College has maintained a commitment to achieve equity in educational outcomes for all students for many years. SMC prides itself in serving a “globally” diverse student population that is increasingly diverse in race/ethnicity, life experiences, and academic preparedness. Santa Monica College officially reached the “Hispanic” enrollment threshold of 25% in 2010, qualifying it as a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) by the US Department of Education. This has allowed SMC to access federally funded grants to assist the institution with moving from a Latinx enrolling institution with regards to student success outcomes. The dual identities of SMC, (1) a globally diverse college and (2) a Minority Serving Institution (MSI) are often in conflict with one another. For example, the HSI designation is completely absent from the institution’s mission (which was revised in 2017) and marketing materials (Quick Facts, Why Come to SMC), rendering a growing population of students at SMC and the support systems available to them relatively invisible. Through the formation of the Equity Plan Task Force and Student Equity Steering Committee, SMC has been working to build a campus identity that more clearly articulates who our students are and what we as an institution must do to better serve them.

With an enrollment of just under 30,000 credit students per semester, 61% of whom are racially minoritized students (Fall 2018 “Fast Facts”), Santa Monica College continues to see pervasive data across every student success indicator demonstrating that the College is not effectively serving Latinx and African American students specifically. SMC’s racial equity gaps are in direct conflict with the College mission to create a learning environment that both challenges students and supports them in achieving their educational goals. SMC proposes to actively pursue racial equity as a centerpiece to its educational mission, hiring, program services, institutional governance, and college planning processes. We believe that SMC can truly embody our number one in transfer slogan for ALL students by collectively committing to employ an equity framework that centers the lived experiences of our most marginalized student groups on campus.

The consistent and pervasive underperformance of SMC with regards to Latinx and African American students must be addressed with more systematic and broad reaching activities centered on confronting issues of race, discrimination, bias and oppression. While the College is considered a minority serving institution (Latinx and African American student population of 49%), SMC remains a predominantly white institution with regard to faculty (full time and part time), academic administrators, and classified managers. In redesigning the institution, SMC must learn to center practices and procedures that represent a significant portion of our students. Hiring highly successful content experts that lack preparation to facilitate discussions around race has historically resulted in the sidelining of racial equity when discussing college planning, new initiatives and proposed interventions. Thus, SMC proposes to utilize the equity plan activities to equip all College employees with the knowledge, skills, and abilities required to discuss issues of race as it relates to campus culture and student success.

In 2018, a broad group of faculty, administrators, and staff convened to integrate the Student Success and Support Program (SSSP)—both credit and noncredit, Student Equity, the Basic Skills Initiative, and the Guided Pathways teams into a single plan with racial equity in educational outcomes for Latinx and African American students at the center. Over the course of developing the plan, the comprehensive work group developed equity vision and mission statements to guide and inform the plan as follows:

Equity Vision statement, “SMC is a dynamic and culturally responsive educational community that upholds the values of equity, inclusion and social justice as a pathway to personal and academic excellence.”
Equity Mission statement, “SMC is an educational institution dedicated to providing an equitable learning and working environment. We intend to make clear, through our lived values and praxis, our commitment to inclusive excellence, which is reflected in our student outcomes and employee satisfaction.”

To achieve racial equity in educational outcomes for Latinx and African American students, who experience the greatest gaps in service across each metric measured by the student equity plan, SMC is pursuing this work at the institutional, interpersonal, and intrapersonal levels. At the institutional level the college community will examine policies, practices, and structures that create barriers for students. Engaging in Guided Pathways redesign to become a “student-ready college” is one example of these efforts. The goals related to course success, transfer, and degree/certificate completion cannot be achieved without each department engaging in data-driven equity-minded work daily. At the individual level the goal is for each member of the SMC community to become “equity-minded,” embracing equity as a core value and recognizing the ways in which they can help begin to work towards racial equity in the work they do every day at the College. To achieve this SMC will provide professional development to all groups, develop “equity core teams” in departments and divisions, and host all-campus events focused on racial equity and actively anti-racist praxis. We will employ the use of an equity framework developed in the Guided Pathways Intention Equity and Retention Team to define and work toward developing campus wide competencies in the following areas:

SMC Equity Framework
| Authentic Communication: | How will we address conflict, misinformation, microaggressions, and unintentional wounding? How will we ensure students are heard and respected as partners in this process? In what ways and in what spaces can the modeling of authentic communication begin? What active steps can be taken to model this behavior? How will we gain commitments to authentic communication? How will we ensure all voices are heard? How will community agreements/norms be embedded in our interactions? |
| Cultural Humility: | What assumptions are we making about our work environment? What cultural dynamics are we looking to challenge or center? Why are we challenging or centering them? How will we disable power imbalances? |
| High Impact/Anti-Racist Practices: | What HIPs have we intentionally embedded to enhance the learning and engagement of Latinx and African American students? Are we showing up as culturally humble experts who are learning and open to exploring new ideas? What practices need additional resources to scale-up and reach a greater proportion of Latinx and African American students? What qualitative and quantitative data do we need to collect along the way to help identify which practices are successful with students of color? |
| Change Management and Culturally Responsive Facilitation: | Who is best prepared to facilitate an equity-focused meeting? How will these facilitators be supported? Are we as an institution prepared to commit to dialogue that squarely centers our examination and decisions of the College around Latinx and African American students? If so, how? Are we committed to communication styles that value “calling-in vs. calling-out”? |
SMC Equity Lens

An equity lens ensures the living embodiment of our framework and will guide preplanning, implementation, reflections, and reconstruction when evaluating college level policies, practices, planning and implementation decisions.

It is vital that SMC improve in the following core competencies to meet the ambitious equity goals proposed in this plan and the Local Vision Report:

- Define and differentiate between the words equity, equality, social justice, diversity, collegiality, and fairness;
- Become aware of how implicit bias and stereotypes shape our interactions with students and peers;
- Recognize and interrupt microaggressions when they are committed, understand the “death by a thousand papercuts” metaphor for individuals who endure these papercuts in their daily lives;
- Create a culture where we recognize breakdowns in communication and “call each other in” as opposed to “call each other out” whenever possible;
- Reflect and refine campus documents and tools (examples: course syllabi and IGETC) using an equity lens that speaks most effectively to African American, Latinx, and first-generation college students;
- Normalize conversations about race; do individual intrapersonal work on unpacking why there may be discomfort around issues of race;
- Disrupt deficit language when discussing racially minoritized; citing their issues as being the cause for any lack of success while at SMC;
- Look at data in student judiciary processes to uncover any trends;
- Avoid using a “savior” mentality when discussing interventions needed to reach students from racially minoritized backgrounds; ensuring all students succeed at SMC is not a noble form of outreach, it is the college imperative.
- Use data to recognize and dismantle college wide practices, discourse, etc. that implicitly center oppressive ideologies and colonizing mentalities.

Student Equity Plan Rationale: Prioritizing Racial Equity

During the December 2018, February 2019, and March 2019 meetings, the SMC Institutional Effectiveness Committee discussed the mechanics of the goal-setting process and articulated a rationale describing the levers chosen to set the local goals for the Vision for Success metrics. One of the first activities of the Student Equity Plan (SEP) was to eliminate parallel planning processes and leverage existing committees to promote the SEP equity vision for Santa Monica College. Key elements of the SMC Institutional Effectiveness goal-setting process that will be applied to the SEP include:
1) Prioritization of closing the equity gaps for racially minoritized groups. The baseline data reveals that the groups who experience the largest and most persistent equity gaps in terms of completion, transfer, and workforce are the racially minoritized groups: Black, Latinx, and Native American/Alaskan Native. While gaps are observed for some metrics for other groups, the College has focused on setting goals that eliminate the equity gaps experienced by the racially minoritized groups. Appendix A of the Vision for Success Report describes the baseline performance of all groups experiencing equity gaps for all metrics, including disability status, foster youth, first-generation status, low-income status, veterans, and LGBT.

2) Setting numeric goals based on a calculation that envisions racial parity for the metrics. The systemwide Vision for Success and Student Equity Planning goals challenge the institutions to simultaneously increase the overall success of all students while reducing or eliminating the equity gaps. These goals narrowly focus on improving the overall success without considering that equity gaps often lead to an unintended scenario where the overall success improves, but the gaps widen or stay the same. In order to ensure that the College achieves both parts of the Vision goals, the numeric goals for the metrics will be determined based on a calculation which produces an outcome in which the highest performing group’s success remains stable, but the overall success improves, and gaps are eliminated for the disproportionately impacted racial/ethnic groups. The “Bottom Up” (known as “Strategic Rise” at SMC) method was used to calculate the number of additional students by ethnicity/race that need to succeed in the baseline year to achieve equity. The SEP goals were set using the Strategic Rise calculations.

3) Recognition that goals are symbolic of the College’s aspiration and do not represent absolute mathematical precision. In the past, the College set small and arbitrary target goals (for example, a 1% increase in course success) for metrics on the IE dashboard. While the College saw minor progress in metrics over time, the results were woefully inadequate, and no meaningful strides were made in terms of student success. In order to achieve the goals of the Vision for Success, colleges will be required to be bold and transformative and abandon the “business as usual” framework. To that end, the SMC has leveraged the local goal setting process to instill a sense of urgency around improving student outcomes and mobilize the campus community by setting ambitious (but measurable) goals that are symbolic of our collective ideal. The goals may not be realistically achievable in the short time period set by the Student Equity Plan (2021-2022), but they convey the College’s resolute commitment to actions that will improve student success in terms of completion, transfer, and workforce preparation faster than ever before and to eliminate racial equity gaps across these outcomes.

1 LGBT and first-generation status data were not systematically collected at the time of the baseline years; these datasets are incomplete. 2. A conscious decision was made by SMC Equity practitioners to rebrand the term “bottom up” to “strategic rise” as the former term is deficit-minded (blames students) and the latter is equity-minded SANTA MONICA COLLEGE VISION FOR SUCCESS GOALS 7

Student Equity Plan Methodology and Goals

To determine which student demographic groups were disproportionately impacted in terms of the equity metrics, the proportionality index (PI) and percentage point gap (PPG) calculations were used. The PI calculation was used for metrics measuring volumes or counts of successful students: Vision for Success Goal Completion and Transfer to a Four-Year University. Conceptually, the PI calculation functions by comparing the proportional representation of a demographic group among a reference population (for example, 9% of credit students enrolled are Black/African American) to the proportional representation of the same group among a successful population (for example, 5% of students who transferred are Black/African American). To achieve equity, the two proportions represented by the demographic group in the reference and successful populations need to be equal. Cases where the student group, in this example Black/African American enrolled, has a larger representation at 9% when compared to their representation in the successful population, 5% transfer, indicate that an equity gap exists for the group.
The PPG calculation was used for rate or percentage metrics: Enrolled in the Same Community College, Retained from Fall to Spring, and Completed Both Transfer-Level Math and English. Conceptually, the PPG functions by comparing the performance or rate of a demographic group to the highest performing group for the metric. All groups who achieve the outcome at lower rates than the highest performing group beyond the margin of error value are identified as being disproportionately impacted.

The baseline data for the student equity plan metrics revealed that the groups who experienced the largest and most persistent equity gaps in terms of access (successful enrollment), retention, transfer, credential completion (vision goal completion), and transfer-level Math and English completion were the racially minoritized groups, particularly Black and Latinx. While gaps are observed for some metrics for other groups\(^1\), the College prioritized setting goals that eliminate the equity gaps experienced by the racially minoritized groups. To that end, the College utilized two distinct methodologies to determine goals for the overall student population and racially minoritized groups (first methodology) and other student demographic groups (second methodology).

Methodology #1: Goals Representing Racial Parity in Outcomes (Eliminate Gaps)

Goals for overall student population metrics and equity goals for racially minoritized student groups were determined using the “Bottom Up” (known as “Strategic Rise”\(^2\) at SMC) method recommended by the USC Center for Urban Education and described earlier. These goals show the number of additional students by ethnicity/race that need to succeed in the baseline year to achieve equity. Refer to Appendix C in the Vision for Success document for a detailed description of the methodology. The reference population for the volume metrics were transfer/degree declared students enrolled at SMC in 2017-2018 (based on informed and/or uninformed self-reported educational goal).

Student Equity Plan Activities:

A group of cross-sectional equity practitioners that are team leaders of major initiatives at the College, (senate committees and guided pathways team leaders) attended a student equity planning institute in 2019. At the institute, the group discussed a more systematic approach to create a system for transformative change in response to college equity data. The team developed a broad set of priorities to engage in intentional work around the assessment of campus climate, professional development, and coordinated planning activities to racial equity at Santa Monica College.

1) Align Equity Goal Setting with Institutional Effectiveness and Other Cross-Campus Planning Bodies

Issue: In previous years, the equity planning task force and committees formed plans and set goals for student metrics in the student equity plan in parallel with other standard college planning processes (Example the Institutional Effectiveness Committee). This resulted in a variety of equity metrics being addressed and separate goals being set for each. This made it difficult to communicate equity plan goals effectively college-wide and infuse equity into the College’s decision-making processes. SMC proposes a strategy to address the lack of cohesive equity planning by carrying out the following activities:

- Work within the IE committee to develop and communicate a standardized rationale for evaluating, setting goals, and measuring progress to close equity gaps at the College.
- Prioritize groups experiencing the most disproportionate impact across all plan indicators. Currently, the groups most underserved by Santa Monica College are racially minoritized groups; specifically, African American and Latinx students enrolled at the College.
- Engage the Classified, Administrative and Faculty leadership of the SMC District Planning Advisory Council to set institutional priorities that focus on closing the equity gaps in the College data.
- Set ambitious goals and mobilize other college wide planning committees and teams (Student Equity and Achievement, Guided Pathways Implementation Teams, Senate Equity and Diversity Committee, Senate Program Review) to initiate transformational change needed to meet the goals and close the racial equity gap at SMC.

2) Implement Inquiry-Based Process to Eliminate Equity Gaps

Issue: College initiatives were not intentionally focused on closing racial equity gaps at SMC. Small pilot programs have proven ineffective in closing racial equity gaps; however, the inability to measure and scale successful interventions continues to be a challenge across the College.

The Office of Institutional Research, in consultation with appropriate campus programs and committees, will conduct a comprehensive assessment of student support services and communication/marketing documents using an action research lens by creating inquiry teams. Action research brings together and trains practitioners (called “practitioner-researchers”) who are in positions to bring about direct change and make decisions to actively participate in assessment and evaluation of specific practices, policies and related documents, and programs. For example, the practitioner-researchers who will be evaluating the Welcome Center services for first-year students will be the students, staff, and faculty who work in the center.

The action research will involve equity-minded inquiry that assesses the effectiveness of services across campus through a racial equity lens, and answer questions such as “Are our African American students accessing the services of our office at the same rate as other students? Why not?” and “Do our marketing materials for our center speak effectively to the African American/Latinx population?”
The inquiry team will be trained by external experts/scholars on the principles of the SMC Equity Framework, equity-mindedness and on key methods of inquiry: observations, interviews, and document reviews. The inquiry team will apply the inquiry methods to learn how services work and don’t work, particularly for our racially minoritized and economically disadvantaged students.

The focus of the inquiry activities will be to systematically map all services, activities, structures, and staffing that contribute to equity planning metrics. The inquiry team will review and evaluate the documents (for example, IGETC document or transfer website), practices (for example, embedded tutors in math classes), and policies (for example, counseling appointment setting process) around core services and programs that help students achieve the metric outcomes, including, but not limited to:

- The onboarding process
- First-year student services
- Transfer services
- Career services
- Academic support services (SI, tutoring)
- Early alert systems

The goal of this activity is to achieve the following outcomes that improve the College’s ability to revise and create programs and interventions that more directly reflect the needs and experiences of racially minoritized students:

1) Documents, practices, procedures, and policies of core services are updated/revised, are more student-friendly overall, and are welcoming and accessible for racially minoritized students;

2) New documents, practices, procedures, and policies of core services will be designed to address any gaps;

3) Students who are targeted by the revised/new strategies, particularly the racially minoritized students, will report that the services, related materials, and communication about the services (marketing, etc.) are relevant to them and meet their needs; and,

4) Members of the inquiry team will have an increased understanding of the specific needs and experience of racially minoritized students and will feel more agency in being able to address student needs.

5) Program review will incorporate this structure in measuring effectiveness of interventions and closing racial equity gaps department wide. An inquiry strategy will be incorporated into annual and 6-year department, program, and division planning.

3) Create an infrastructure to support sustained and coordinated equity minded decision-making and development across all areas of the College.

Issue: SMC does not have any dedicated equity staffing to create, coordinate and sustain the training, planning, and strategy development of the campus community around racial equity data, best practices, and principles. Without a centralized and visible infrastructure that extends college-wide, racial equity training interventions and development have been focused primarily on faculty in academic and student affairs areas.
Establish an “Institutional Equity, Planning and Effectiveness” leader that monitors equity data and coordinates the efforts to address institutional equity gaps across every division. This leader will create opportunities for equity minded implementation and decision making that affect general College business. Planning and implementation at the College must focus on culturally responsive inquiry and problem-solving facilitation college-wide and, therefore, the leader of these efforts should sit on senior staff. Successful implementation of AB705 with a focus on racial equity, progress on metrics that contribute to the student-centered funding formula, and redesign of the Santa Monica College student experience are among the many changes that require leadership and expertise in institutional equity planning and effectiveness.

In collaboration with SMC Human Resources, the Equity, Planning and Effectiveness leader will develop programming to augment the services of Title IX and provide formal Equal Opportunity training for all SMC Hiring committee members.

Create an ombudsperson to provide confidential space for employees to discuss issues regarding campus culture, process microaggressions and other forms of toxic workplace behavior that undermine the principles of cultural humility, authentic communication, and culturally responsive management praxis. This will institutionalize the Confidential Equity Office Hours currently provided by members of the Equity Steering Committee per the request of College employees.

Expand Equity Data Coaching. The Office of Institutional Research, in collaboration with the Center for Teaching Excellence and the Senior Staff Lead on Equity, Planning and Effectiveness, will expand the existing data coaching program (currently focused on CTE) to train faculty, staff, and manager practitioners to analyze student equity data and facilitate dialogue in the context of programs around student equity using an equity-minded framework. The College will build on the model and expand the program to include training across all departments and programs. Specifically, the equity data coaching program, will:

1. Train practitioners on the technical aspects of calculating and analyzing equity gaps numerically in the context of the Vision for Success and Equity Plan metrics;
2. Deepen practitioner knowledge of the historical and current context of race issues embedded in the systems of the U.S., including higher education;
3. Prepare practitioners to respond effectively to deficit-minded (perspectives that place the responsibility of success solely on students and link failure on the shortcomings of students) reactions to racial equity data; and,
4. Train practitioners to apply an equity-minded framework (perspectives that emphasizes institutional responsibility for inequities in student outcomes) in facilitating difficult data discussions at the program and committee levels, particularly around racial equity gaps.

The ultimate goal of this activity is to better enable SMC to act on our equity goals via the following outcomes that improve the racial climate and campus culture:

1. An authentic community of practitioners who drive equity-minded dialogue and are proficient in the analysis of data to identify where our practices, policies, and programs are not working for our racially minoritized students will exist;
2. The College will be more intentionally engaged in inquiry practices focused on better understanding the needs and experience of racially minoritized students;
3. Conversations around race, racism, and racial equity gaps on campus will be normalized; and

4. The College will assume collective and personal responsibility for racial inequities that exist in student outcomes.

4) Assess and Improve the Racial Climate at Santa Monica College

Understanding the Racial Climate on Campus

During the Fall 2015 and Spring 2016, the Community College Equity and Assessment Lab (CCEAL) conducted focus groups with SMC students who identified as “men of color.” This study laid the foundation for much of the professional development conducted by The Center for Teaching Excellence and The Equity Steering Committee. CCEAL will continue their work with SMC by administering a comprehensive set of surveys that examine factors that influence student success at SMC by faculty and student services. The National Assessment of Collegiate Campus Climate (NACC) will also be administered at SMC to gather data on how our students are experiencing the institution’s racial climate. NACC assesses how students are experiencing a sense of “Mattering” and “Affirmation” in different areas of the campus: Cross-racial engagement; Racial Learning and Literacy; Encounters with Racial Stress; Appraisals of Institutional Commitment; and Impact of External environment.

In addition to widely sharing the results, findings will be utilized by The Equity Steering Committee and The Center for Teaching Excellence to create ongoing and sustained professional development. Specifically, the data will be used to:

1. Guide authentic discussions of how our racially minoritized students experience SMC
2. Guide authentic discussions about how our racially minoritized colleagues experience SMC
3. Inform the understanding of institutional members who are engaged in equity-minded inquiry
4. Inform the need for institutional wide professional development
5. Results will be utilized by Equity Data Coaches during discussions with the larger campus community
6. Results will provide focus areas that should be addressed during the Redesign of the Student Experience

Discussing the Racial Climate on Campus

The Center for Teaching Excellence, in collaboration with the Student Equity Steering Committee, will develop training around Language, Collaborative Spaces, and Difficult Conversations. Openly and frankly discussing race is not easy and requires extensive professional development. It is important that training is provided to validate the fact that conversations about race and ethnicity are set in historical context, and are therefore delicate and sometimes painful. Research tells us that the language that we use in our conversations, marketing, and writing matters to students and colleagues. This training will also provide campus-wide opportunities for healing and promote equity practitioner well-being. SMC cannot effectively assist students impacted by racism and bias if our campus employees are experiencing trauma in their daily work environments.

The Equity Steering Committee and The Center for Teaching Excellence will collaborate to create ongoing and sustained professional development. Specifically, the findings will be used to:
1. Train faculty and classified professionals on how language can be framed in an equitable or deficit manner.

2. Creation of collaborative spaces that are private where our community can explore questions about race without judgement, in the interest of growth.

3. The college community will co-create a set of Community Understandings for conversations/meetings to respect the voices in the room. These Community Understandings can then be modified to fit the needs of particular groups.

4. Train and practice Calling In as a way of respectfully dialoguing around difficult subjects.

The goal of these activities is to achieve the following outcomes that improve the College’s ability to revise and create programs and interventions that more directly reflect the needs and experiences of racially minoritized students:

1. The College will have a validated report that identifies student groups demonstrating disproportionate impact by race/ethnicity within gender as well as predictive modeling of factors influencing student engagement, use of services, and focus in college.

2. The College will have a faculty report detailing recommendations for professional development with a focus on teaching and learning practices based on threshold scores from national benchmarks. Data will be disaggregated by full-time tenured, full-time tenure track, part-time teaching here only, part-time teaching at multiple institutions, developmental education, general education, and major required courses.

3. The College will have a student services report detailing recommendations for professional development with a focus on support practices based on threshold scores from national benchmarks. Data are disaggregated by area (e.g., financial aid, services to students with disabilities, admissions and records, outreach and matriculation, academic advising, psychological and health services, student life and activities, retention programs, tutoring services, transfer center and services).

4. The College community will be able to use language intentionally to create a campus climate that validates the identities and experiences of our students.

5. Conversations between colleagues will incorporate equity into core practices.
Integration of Initiatives:

Approximately two-thirds of new SMC students assess at the developmental level in English, ESL, and/or mathematics. The Basic Skills Initiative (BSI) aligns with the Student Equity plan goal of improving and accelerating the rates of developmental course success for African American and Latinx students, which, in turn, supports all academic achievement goals. BSI seeks to close the equity gaps by providing learning support services to students; supporting faculty in developing accelerated course work which is responsive to AB 705; integrating counseling, study skills, career/transfer information into courses, and supporting the Guided Pathways redesign. SMC will leverage the Student Equity and Achievement program to create mechanisms to infuse racial equity training as a key focal point of all accelerated coursework and companion courses. With respect to Basic Skills, SMC must assess the following: What is the impact of self-placement and accelerated courses on our most marginalized, racially minoritized students? Are additional hours in the form of corequisite support courses in the classroom effective at closing SMC’s racial equity gap?

The Student Success and Support Program team has identified a variety of high impact activities that support the student equity goals, the success of basic skills students, and the implementation of a Guided Pathways redesign of the student experience. In order to ensure all students are served effectively, the SSSP team must be trained on how to regularly conduct disproportionate impact analyses to determine gaps in core services and delivery among racially minoritized populations. SSSP aligns effectively with the Guided Pathways redesign and will improve practice by providing a care team for all first-time freshmen/first generation students to facilitate major selection and educational planning.

As suggested in the Chancellor’s Office publication, “Vision for Success,” SMC is using the “... Guided Pathways framework to bring about transformational change, ultimately braiding various funding streams in service of a singular, coherent plan for improvement” (p. 22). Using a student-centered approach, the Guided Pathways redesign is an integrated, inclusive strategy to reimagine and comprehensively redesign the student experience, engaging the College as an inquiry-based, networked community to create an equity-driven institution as competent in student completion of programs as it is in student access. The goals of the redesign are to reduce/eliminate equity gaps, reduce time to completion, and increase the rates of completion overall. Therefore, the Guided Pathways redesign directly supports the Student Equity goals and activities. The College is engaged in making the student experience more intentional, supported, and clear to help guide and support each student—regardless of academic preparation—to reach their self-defined academic goals effectively and efficiently.

The integration of initiatives and plans will become the foundation for future programming under the Student Equity and Achievement (SEA) Program. Current budget priorities are being developed by the Vice Presidents of Academic Affairs, Student Affairs, and Enrollment Development in consultation with the College’s Guided Pathways leadership.

Budgeted Resources by Equity Plan Activities and Metrics

In addition to the proposed priorities that are essential in making transformative change around racial equity, SMC is currently funding a variety of academic interventions, counseling support, administrative and classified positions that align with both the Vision for Success and Student Equity Plan Goals. These ongoing activities will be assessed as part of the equity-minded inquiry (Activity 2) listed above and presented to college planning committees (Activity 1) for input on scaling of successful programs.

Equity Plan Activities and all Equity Plan Metrics: 1) Align Equity Goal Setting with Institutional Effectiveness and Other Cross-Campus Planning Bodies 2) Implement Inquiry-based process to eliminate equity gaps 3) Create an infrastructure to support sustained and coordinated equity minded data decision making and development across all areas of the College. 4) Improve the Racial Climate at Santa Monica College. Total Equity Budget: $859,765

- Equity based Data Coaching Training: Develop a team of equity practitioners to deepen the institution’s understanding of why the equity gaps exist for departmental and program metrics within the context of instructional support services and curriculum delivery. 21 faculty have been trained in data coaching.

- Faculty Summer Institute: 2-week training program designed to increase faculty use of culturally responsive pedagogy and promote equity practices in the classroom. 205 faculty members have participated in the FSI program at SMC.

- Academic Senate Diversity and Equity Committee Handbook: Highlighting pedagogy and strategies for centering practices that promote student learning for racially minoritized in the classroom.

- Adopting the Guided Pathways Institutional Equity and Retention Team rubric and recommendations into student equity plan, guided pathways, SSSP, and BSI processes.

- Sustained Equity Centered Professional Development: Ongoing professional development focused on culturally responsive pedagogy and high impact practices.

  - Equity Summit: Veronica Neal (Calling In, Ally Building), Robin D’Angelo (White Fragility), USC Race and Equity Center (anti-racist policies and practices in higher education). Each year we have welcomed over 80 members of the Santa Monica College community. In 2019, 55 Faculty, 1 Board of Trustee, 13 Classified Professionals, and 18 Administrators attended.

  - Center for Urban Education Equity in Hiring: Prepare a more equity-focused, comprehensive hiring and human resource onboarding process. In 2017 SMC sent a team of (Attendance-Department Chairs, HR managers, etc.) to provide guidance on how to intentionally focus on equity in faculty recruitment, evaluation and hiring.

  - Center for Urban Education Student Equity Planning Institute: SMC has sent teams of 10 (2015) and 17 (2019) to the Student Equity Plan Institute hosted by the USC Center for Urban Education. This conference has been central to developing a comprehensive Equity Plan that addresses the Chancellor’s office planning requirements and provides a framework for implementing intervention and activities.

  - Center for Urban Education Equity Minded Teaching Institute: In 2018, SMC sent a team of 8 faculty to 2-day training on equity minded practices in the classroom. Follow up webinars were also provided. In August, SMC plans to send additional faculty to the 2019 Equity Minded Teaching Institute.

  - Center for Organizational Responsibility and Advancement: In response to the reports generated by CCEAL (CC Survey of Men of Color); Teaching men of color was offered by the equity committee and 84 faculty and 35 classified staff members have completed CORA training.
- FLEX Days: Veronica Neal, Kimberley Papillion, Frank Harris, J. Luke Wood, Jeff Schinske (see SMC FLEX Day Programs): to assist with delivering high impact practices aimed at shifting institutional culture.

- National Conference on Race and Ethnicity, A2MEND, UMOJA, 3CSN: Send groups of faculty, department chairs, staff, and students to conferences focused on race and ethnicity in higher education. Since 2016, SMC student equity has sent four teams and a total of 52 staff members to NCORE for training. SMC has sent 30 faculty and 30 students African American Male Educational Network and Development Conference.

- Social Justice & Equity Speaker Series: Fall 2018, the SMC Equity Steering Committee along with the SMC Faculty Association brought a series of speakers to address Equity & Social Justice issues that impact our campus. We had over 150 students, faculty, and staff attend this series. The speakers included, Dr. Tyrone Howard (UCLA), Dr. Antonia Darder (LMU), Dr. Lindsey Perez-Huber (CSU Long Beach), and Dr. Kyndal Brown (UCLA).

- Equity Evaluation and Research: Associate Dean, Faculty Lead, Dean of Institutional Research, Director of Academic Affairs, and project managers (among others) work with equity research analysts to expand pilot projects and determine efficacy and sustainability of new efforts to close identified equity gaps.

- Support ongoing SMC Equity Research: Senior Analyst directs and assists with evaluation of interventions and provides critical data and information to inform planning.

- Student Equity Committee Key Personnel and Informational Materials/Web Development: Planning and communication activities to promote student equity and related activities at the College.

Equity Plan Metrics: Access (Successful Enrollment); Retention Fall to Spring for African-American, Latinx and other student groups experiencing equity gaps: Total Budget: $575,808

- Veteran Resource Center Service Expansion: Increase capacity for connecting Veterans at SMC to centralized psychological and counseling services in the Veterans Resource Center.

- Guardian Scholars: Provide Guardian Scholars (foster youth) with a dedicated program coordinator/counselor to connect participants with student support services and closely monitor academic progress. Provide mental health referrals and additional staff to support foster youth.

- African American Collegians/Latino Centers: Student Services Assistant, part time counselors, and social workers/mental health professionals to provide program support, expand academic and personal counseling, referrals to mental health and other community-based resources.

- Dreamers Advising: Provide counseling to support our ally training program and student workers to act as peer mentors for undocumented students.

- STEM counseling: Part time counseling to support all STEM students at SMC to assist with the STEM education planning process.

- Direct Student Support: Provide assistance with books, transportation, and child-care costs.
Equity Plan Metric: Completion of transfer level math/English and targeted courses, for African-American, Latinx and other student groups experiencing equity gaps. Total Budget: $447,697

- Supplemental Instruction (SI), Tutoring, and Learning Center Support: Expand support for embedded tutoring and learning centers to improve access and quality of service across disciplines. Instructional Assistant support for African American Collegian and Latino Centers in Math and English, Student Services Specialist in Supplemental Instruction.

- Embedded Tutoring: Provide student tutors during the short-term, intensive winter and summer intersessions in STEM subjects. Targeted outreach for African American and Latinx students to promote course success.

- History Peer Learning Program: Expand peer-learning program to build history specific reading and writing skill building workshops.

- Sociology Coaching Program: Promote successful course completion among African American and Latinx students.

- Chemistry Bootcamps and Math Workshops: Boost math/chemistry skills among African American and Latinx students that lead to successful course completion.

- Black Collegians/Latino Center instructional support: Provide full-time math Instructional Assistant to provide support for African American and Latinx students. Expand peer-mentoring program.

Equity Plan Metric: Increase the overall number of degrees and certificates awarded African-American and Latino/a/x students and other groups experiencing equity gaps.

- Integration of Career Services in Black Collegians/Latino Center programs: Provide comprehensive career services in the centers where target group students receive core services.

Equity Plan Metric: Increase the overall number of students who are transfer prepared and successfully transfer among African-American and Latino/a/x students and other groups experiencing equity gaps. Total Budget: $111,500

- Equity Transfer Programs: Expand and promote transfer immersion programs, coursework, and opportunities to engage with SMC faculty mentors.

- Scholars Program outreach: focused outreach to African American and Latinx students eligible for the SMC scholars transfer program.

Funded Student Equity activities for 2014-15, 2015-16, and 2017-18

In 2014-15 Santa Monica College Student Equity Plan had three overarching goals:

1. To build institutional capacity to address the achievement gap by engaging in systematic quantitative and qualitative inquiry, and by implementing interventions and student support that directly address the identified equity gaps.

2. To establish a standing college committee on Student Equity, which will monitor progress on the plan, submit required annual reports, and develop future plans.
3. To develop consensus on determining the performance measures for monitoring progress toward achieving the desired outcomes and establish target dates for achieving these outcomes.

The 2015-16 overarching goals for the Santa Monica College Student Equity plan included:
1. To build institutional capacity to address the achievement gaps experienced by target group students.
2. To assess and evaluate all equity funded projects to determine the most effective practices for closing the achievement gaps identified in campus-based research.
3. To communicate evaluation results widely and develop plans for expansion of best practices, leveraging projects to maximize the impact on target group students.

In 2017-18 Integrated Planning Goals:
1. Santa Monica College will embrace student equity as a core value for which all will take responsibility.
2. Decrease the time to completion for degree, certificate, employment outcomes, and transfer, particularly for groups experiencing equity gaps.
3. Increase the persistence, completion, and success in all courses, particularly the ESL and English and math sequences, for African-American and Latino/a/x students and other groups experiencing equity gaps.
4. Increase the overall number of degrees and certificates awarded and successful employment outcomes for African-American and Latino/a/x students and other groups experiencing equity gaps.
5. Increase the overall number of students who are transfer prepared and successfully transfer among African-American and Latino/a/x students and other groups experiencing equity gaps.

Santa Monica College accomplished two of the goals in the 2014-15 Student Equity plan by establishing a Student Equity committee with representation from all campus constituencies and by developing consensus on the performance measures for monitoring progress toward achieving the desired outcomes and establishing target dates for achieving these outcomes. Santa Monica College conducted campus-wide research and inquiry, and designed student support interventions that culminated with data evaluation to identify the most successful intervention strategies. The SMC Equity committee also examined paths for successful pilot programs to be brought to scale to close the equity gaps.

Overall the campus-based research indicates that the target group students who experience the greatest disproportionate impact are African American and Latino/a students, particularly males. There are also areas in which foster youth, veteran students, and students with disabilities experience gaps in achievement. Goals to eliminate equity gaps experienced by target groups by the year 2021 were initially set in the 2014-2015 Student Equity Plan. Equity gaps were previously calculated using the percentage point gap methodology, which measures equity gaps by subtracting the success rate of the target group from the success rate of the highest achieving group for each metric. Gap values of 0% indicate that the equity goal has been achieved. The following describes the equity gaps experienced by target groups for previous equity plan metric (all have been revised in 2019) for the last four cohort years.

Indicator A: Access

Access was defined as access to the institution as well as access to critical services by key equity target groups identified in the data.

Indicator B: Course Completion

Santa Monica College’s faculty and staff believe that the biggest difference in closing the equity gaps will be in the classroom, which is the one place that all community college students share and can be reached. Therefore, the SMC Student Equity Plan has focused on improving teaching and learning experiences in the classroom and expanding access to instructional support services for target student groups.

Indicator C: ESL and Basic Skills Completion

SMC invested in interventions that create pathways from basic skills to college level courses. Examples of these interventions include the English Academy and expand access to instructional support services for target group students.

C: Basic Skills Math Completion

Basic skills math completion describes the percentage of credit students who first enrolled in a course below transfer-level math in the cohort year and completed a college-level math course within six years of the cohort year (Source: Student Success Scorecard).

The equity gap for the Black student population for the Basic Skills ESL Completion metric was not measured for the baseline year as the cohort size was too small (fewer than 10). As a result, the 2008-2009 year was used as the baseline year for this target group.

Indicator D: Degree and Certificate Completion

For Indicator D, Degree and Certificate Completion, the 2008-09 cohort is examined. In 2014-15 SMC implemented an innovative strategy, leveraging technology and in-house data to award degrees and certificates to students who did not realize they were eligible. Those results are not yet reflected in these data.

Indicator E: Transfer

The Student Equity committee created a timeline and primary focus for each year. Basic Skills, Access and Course completion addressed the bottleneck in transfer for African American and Latinx students and therefore was the primary focus of the equity activities in prior year plans. Transfer programming support in the form of counseling overlaps largely with several indicators to increase student support services.
