Year 3 $219,209
Year 4 $217,051
Year 5 $217,990

Matching Funds: A match of $2 to every $1 in grant funding is required for a total of $2,261,895, as broken down:

Year 4 $461,169
Year 5 $470,470

Performance Period: October 1, 2005 – August 31, 2010

Summary: The purpose of this project is to significantly increase the number of nursing students who complete the college's nursing program within two years of enrollment. The current completion rate within two years of enrollment is about 52 percent due to a large number of students who enter the program without the skills necessary to succeed in the program and the college's inability to provide supportive services to students once they are in the program. Through this project, the college will increase its completion rate to 90 percent by 1) reassessing its admission criteria; and 2) developing, piloting, evaluating, and institutionalizing an array of supportive services and interventions designed to promote student success, including tutoring, mentoring, student success workshop, services for non-native English language learners, reading remediation courses, NCLEX Review Courses, and intrusive counseling and monitoring. SMC will partner with St. John's Health Center, Cedars-Sinai, UCLA Medical Center, and Kaiser, as well as the Marina Del Rey WorkSource.

Matching Funds: $28,309
Summary: The purpose of this project is to increase the college's capacity to collect, process, and safely recycle beverage containers brought on to campus by faculty, staff, and students, as well as those purchased from campus vendors. The college will accomplish this goal by 1) purchasing and installing additional recycling bins on the main campus, as well as each satellite campus; 2) developing and placing additional signage on existing recycle bins to increase public awareness of those bins; 3) developing an educational component that is linked to several college courses and will increase awareness of beverage container recycling; and 4) partnering with Sustainable Works to develop curriculum and promote the recycling program on campus and throughout the community. In addition to purchasing new bins and signage, this grant will enable the college to purchase a one-ton lift gate truck and an electric dump vehicle.

Comment: The Liberal Arts Building, originally constructed in 1952, was damaged during the 1994 Northridge Earthquake. The District has determined that the replacement of the Liberal Arts Building is a more sensible, safe, and prudent course of action to take, rather than restoring the building back to its original 1952 condition. This project is directed by and in conformance with the January 13, 1998 SMC Adopted Facilities Master Plan. The Board approved the hiring of Gensler as the lead architect on February 12, 2001 and approved preliminary plans to be submitted to the state for funding on April 2, 2001. This Board action along with the bid tabulation will be sent to the state for final approval before the District can execute the contract.

The Liberal Arts North building is currently in construction and the South phase will complete the new Earthquake Replacement Liberal Arts Complex. The North Building will house the History Department and the South Building will house Philosophy, Social Sciences, and Psychology and have a lab for Earth Sciences.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 18      REAPPOINTMENT OF PERSONNEL COMMISSIONER

It is recommended that the Board of Trustees confirm the reappointment of Karen Bancroft to the SMC Personnel Commission for a three-year term that commences December 1, 2005 and expires November 30, 2008.

Comment: The process of filling a position on the Personnel Commission requires that one member be appointed by Board of Trustees; one member be appointed by the classified employees of the District; and the third member be in 2004 when Dolores Press was appointed to the Personnel Commission. The vacancy now created by the expiration of Karen Bancroft’s term creates the opportunity for the classified employees to make its appointment to the Personnel Commission.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 19  TEMPORARY PEDESTRIAN AND VEHICULAR ACCESS TO SMC BUN DY CAMPUS FROM AIRPORT AVENUE

It is recommended that the Board of Trustees hold a discussion and provide direction to staff regarding the offer of the City of Santa Monica by City Council action of November 8, 2005, to provide a temporary, seven-month pedestrian access and vehicular right-of-way (existing only) agreement from the Bundy Campus to Airport Avenue in return for the College District paying for all costs of improvements, providing indemnification, and providing an unconditional and permanent waiver of all claims to any actual or purposed property rights regarding access from the Bundy Campus through City property to Airport Avenue, including any implied, expressed, or prescriptive easements and related claims. The Board’s action may include the adoption of a resolution.

Background: In February 2003, the City of Santa Monica closed and locked two gates in a fence that separates the 227-acre Santa Monica Municipal Airport and the 10-acre Santa Monica College Bundy campus. Both of these gates extend across driveways that have historically been used to provide pedestrian and vehicular access from the Bundy campus site to Airport Avenue (a street that traverses the southern edge of the Airport, connecting on the east to Bundy Drive via a traffic signal and on the west to Walgrove Avenue).

The connection of the Bundy campus site with the Santa Monica Municipal Airport originated in 1935, when the City of Santa Monica purchased the 10-acre site and added it to its municipal golf course. The property was later included in the City of Santa Monica’s Airport Master Plan adopted after World War II as one of two parcels needed to provide a southern expansion of the Municipal Airport into the City of Los Angeles. When Los Angeles zoning changes needed to build a runway south of the Santa Monica border were denied in 1950, Santa Monica abandoned its option on the first parcel, a 15-acre site south of the City border and west of the Bundy campus site, and supported and facilitated the sale of the other parcel, the 10-acre Bundy campus site, to Lear, Inc. The sale was approved unanimously by the Santa Monica City Council on January 22, 1952 for $106,000. Lear’s intended use of the site was to manufacture electronic equipment and to install the gear on Air Force planes rolled from the Airport.

Vehicular and pedestrian access to the Bundy campus site from Airport Avenue has occurred without interruption or restriction throughout the Lear ownership through December 2001, and during College ownership and lease to BAE Systems (the new name for Lear Siegler Astronics) through February 2003. At its peak in 1988, Lear Siegler employed approximately 1,280 people working at the site on a daily basis, and during its last year of use, BAE Systems employed 736 people at the site.
This historical investigation underlies Santa Monica College’s assertion that it possesses a legally-protected implied easement for direct vehicular access between the Bundy Campus and Airport Avenue. The assertion is based on statute and includes three elements: there was a separation of title from single ownership; before the separation, the use was of adequate duration and so apparent as to indicate it was intended to be permanent; and the implied easement must be reasonably necessary to the beneficial enjoyment of the land granted. The College first asserted this property right to the City of Santa Monica in June 2004.

Importantly, rather than pursuing legal action, the College has pursued a multi-year strategy of resolving this issue through discussion.

The College has worked cooperatively with the City of Santa Monica in the preparation of a vehicle access plan by developing and authorizing a Bundy Campus Long Range Master Plan process that in essence recommends maintaining the current level of operations. The College has analyzed circulation issues and adjusted operations accordingly. The College has reduced any potential impact on Airport operations by relocating the shuttle. The College has supported City of Santa Monica efforts to develop a three-party agreement that includes the City of Los Angeles.

This cooperative effort has in fact led to a proposed three-party agreement developed with the participation of all parties on October 28, 2005, whereby in the immediate term Los Angeles City Councilmember Bill Rosendahl would seek a half-signal on Bundy at the Bundy Campus driveway; Santa Monica would allow entering and exiting from the campus via Donald Douglas Loop South to and from Airport Avenue, with exiting right turn only to Bundy Drive; SMC would agree to keep the gate from the campus to Stewart Street closed except in emergency situations; and SMC would pay for all costs. The immediate term blueprint is to be a pilot for the intermediate term. In the intermediate term, Councilmember Bill Rosendahl would install a traffic signal on Bundy at the Bundy Campus driveway. The other immediate term elements would be extended, with modifications as determined by the pilot program. Additionally, all parties would agree to pursue longer term solutions.

The Santa Monica College Board of Trustees endorsed this agreement on November 7, 2005.

The Council action of November 8, 2005, falls short of meeting the terms of the proposed three-party agreement. It limits access to Airport Avenue to exiting only. It does not provide a commitment to extend the access right beyond seven months, even if the Bundy signal is installed or approved during that time period. It includes a new requirement, the permanent waiver of a College property right, as a condition of the seven-month agreement. This requirement has never been discussed with the College nor has there been any public input regarding the permanent nature of this waiver.
The Bundy Campus extends Santa Monica College's commitment to neighborhood quality of life. Throughout the 1990s, the College has followed a growth management strategy of decentralization and shifting circulation away from residential areas. Since 1992, for example, the College has closed Parking Lot #3 on Pearl Street; has relocated Student Services to the Pico side of the campus; has shifted programs to new satellite locations; and has re-started an off-site parking and shuttle program.

The value of these efforts to reduction of traffic near the main campus is evident. In a City of Santa Monica comparison of vehicular counts between late Fall 1992 and mid-Spring 1998, traffic volume on 20th Street between Pico Boulevard and Pearl Street had been reduced approximately 12% despite overall College growth. This is the street segment north of Ocean Park Boulevard in Sunset Park with the highest total traffic volume and the street segment most affected by student traffic.

Providing long-term, safe access to the Bundy Campus would assist the College in redirecting student traffic away from the main campus and out of residential neighborhoods. In addition, providing interim access would avoid possible interruptions in College programs and the negative impact on student opportunities and College operations that such interruptions would have.

Assuring the public safe access to the Bundy Campus and the long-term cooperation among the above governmental agencies are the basis of Board discussion and possible direction to staff.

RECOMMENDATION NO. 20  UPGRADE OF JOHN ADAMS MIDDLE SCHOOL FIELD

It is recommended that the Board of Trustees direct Santa Monica College staff to work cooperatively with Santa Monica-Malibu Unified School District staff, City of Santa Monica staff, the Sports Advisory Council, and the existing users to upgrade the John Adams Middle School soccer, baseball, and practice fields to an all-weather synthetic turf surface (preserving the dirt portions needed for baseball/softball) and to make related improvements, with funding from Measure S.

Comment: SMC currently offers credit classes in physical education, athletics, and kinesiology. Compared to many other California community college campuses, SMC is deficient in field space. In order to offer a full program, the District rents field space. However, there is insufficient field space in Santa Monica to meet demand.

Measure S, approved by District voters in November 2004, authorizes the use of bond funds to retrofit existing athletic fields available to the District. This includes installing synthetic turf, which holds up to extended play extremely well and virtually eliminates the down time due to rain, field rehabilitation, mowing, and irrigation associated with natural grass. This increases activity levels for games and practices—it is estimated that synthetic turf adds as many as 600 to 800 games additional annually for a two-field park site.

Synthetic turf provides a number of environmental benefits. Recycled rubber is used in the product to increase surface resiliency, the need for chemical fertilizer is eliminated, and annual water savings are significant.

The fields at the School District’s John Adams Middle School would benefit from such an upgrade. The north and south fields are heavily used by the School District, the College, and many community groups including AYSO, Santa Monica Pony Baseball, Pacific Coast Soccer Club, Santa Monica Little League, Bobby Sox, and Santa Monica United Soccer Club. The College’s use is for women’s soccer practice and games and men’s football practice.

The School District has included the upgrade of the John Adams fields among its priorities. The School District applied for a grant from the Urban Park Act of 2001 Program last year; this fall, the School District learned that the project will not be funded from this source.

College staff and School District staff have recently met regarding the use of Measure S funds to upgrade the fields at John Adams Middle School. College staff believes that the increased playing time provided by this proposed upgrade will be of interim benefit to the College during the future upgrade of Corsair Field and will be of ongoing benefit in terms of reduced maintenance and upkeep costs. Additionally, the improvements would enhance opportunities for John Adams Middle School students and neighborhood youth. Once completed, the John Adams fields would remain available to users consistent with current practice.
