Coursework in social/behavioral/biological sciences, humanities, language/rationality forms the broad educational base for the practice of nursing. Coursework in the nursing major, taken in three semesters, prepares the student in skill acquisition and nursing knowledge in the care, support, and management of illness states as well as the promotion of health. Nursing coursework includes clinical nursing laboratory experiences in a variety of clinical settings.

Students seeking admission to the Nursing Program must meet ALL of the following criteria:

- An overall grade point average of 2.7 for the Human Anatomy, Human Physiology and Microbiology pre-requisite courses (at least 4 semester units of each) with no grade less than “C” for each course and no more than one repetition/withdrawal of any of these courses. You may repeat one of these courses.
- College level, transferable English, minimum of (3) semester units with a grade no less than a “C”.
- Completion of Nursing 19 at SMC with a “C” grade or better.
- A cumulative grade point average of 2.7 for ALL college coursework taken.
- Good standing status at Santa Monica College (academic and in-progress)
- Meet the minimum physical qualifications & essential functions of Nursing students
- Must have a negative criminal background check and drug screen.
- Must take and achieve the required score on a CA Chancellor’s Office approved Admissions Assessment.
- Students must have a valid Social Security Number or Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN).
- Must have valid CA LVN license, IV Certification and one year’s experience in direct patient care within the past two years.
