

Prepare for Careers in Healthcare with this Online ESL Course Available Now!

Free Noncredit Certificate Program

ESL for Careers in Healthcare

The program begins August 29, 2022

Are you an English Language learner who is considering a career in healthcare or already works in healthcare? Or maybe you just want to communicate better with your medical providers.

This fully online noncredit ESL certificate program is just for you!

These courses are designed to build your English language skills around careers in healthcare. You will learn basic medical terminology and vocabulary while producing various forms of oral and written communication relevant to working in a clinical, medical or caregiving environment.

You can explore a range of careers in healthcare by also enrolling in one of the Health Sciences noncredit certificate programs to earn dual certificates in one semester, or complete the two ESL courses on their own to earn the certificate of competency in ESL for College and Career Pathways.

SMC Health Sciences Noncredit Certificate Programs:

- Rehabilitation Therapy Aide
- Introduction to Working with Older Adults
- CNA Pre-Certification (coming soon)
- Home Health Aide Pre-Certification (coming soon)

Students who complete the program will be connected to JVS West Los Angeles Work Source to receive assistance in looking for jobs in the field and will be invited to participate in SMC's graduation.
