

Port of Long Beach Student Tour
May 16th, 2026 10 am
90 minute boat tour

Witness the massive infrastructure of international commerce as we navigate past towering cranes and massive container ships. These are the primary engines of the global fashion supply chain, where raw goods and finished apparel lines enter the domestic market.

100 Aquarium Way Dock #2, Long Beach, CA 90802
Boat departs 10 am.
Validation for Aquarium parking lot

SMC Bus departs from Pearl Street 8:30 am and returns 12 noon. Space is limited and reservation required

The Global Closet

Notebook LM explainer orientation

Students learned :

The role of the port in the global economy

The facility's function as a primary gateway for international trade. •

The impact the port has on the apparel industry:

How port efficiency directly influences fashion supply chains and retail availability

Logistics of transportation:

The complex coordination required to move goods from ship to shore.

Import/export business planning:

International trade strategies and maritime operations.

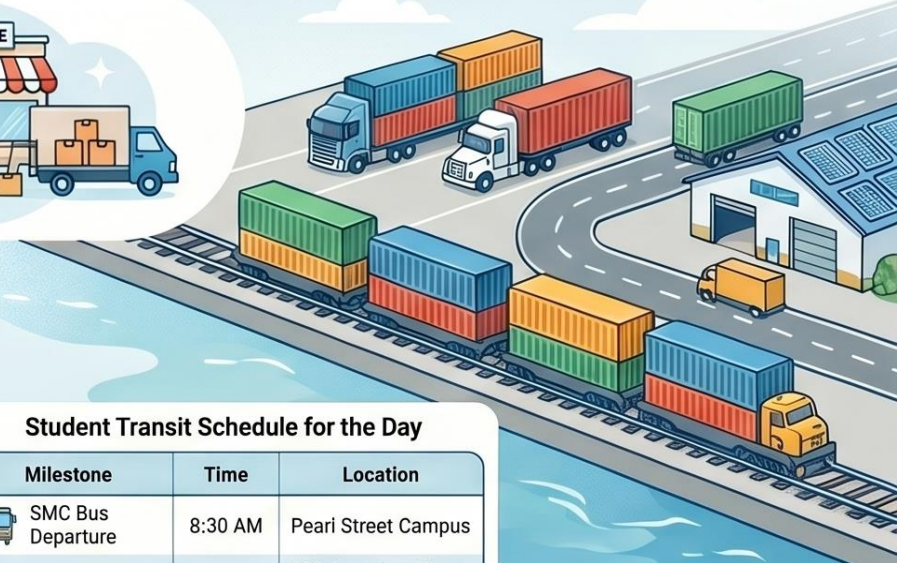

•
Sustainability priorities: the port's "Green Port" initiatives to balance industrial growth with environmental stewardship. logistics and transportation

From Classroom to Cargo: SMC Field Visit to the Port of Long Beach

This 90-minute narrated boat tour bridges academic theory with industrial reality, allowing students to witness the scale of global commerce and the fashion supply chain first-hand.

The Global Fashion Supply Chain

Observe where raw goods and finished apparel lines enter the domestic market.

Saturday, May 16th, 2026

Tour Logistics & Schedule

The 90-minute narrated harbor boat tour departs promptly at 10:00 AM.

Student Transit Schedule for the Day

Milestone	Time	Location
SMC Bus Departure	8:30 AM	Peari Street Campus
Boat Departure	10:00 AM	100 Aquarium Way, Dock #2
Return to Campus	12:00 PM	Pearl Street Campus

Complimentary SMC Transportation

Complimentary SMC Transportation

Intermodal Logistics in Action

Witness coordination between massive container ships, gantry cranes, and rail lines.

Sustainability & Green Initiatives

Learn about "Green Port" strategies balancing industrial growth with environmental stewardship.

