About you

Statement of Legal Residence

* required

The University of California requires all applicants to complete a Statement of Legal Residence (SLR) to be evaluated for a Residency Classification for purposes of UC tuition. For further explanation, read the full UC Residence Policy and Guidelines . As UC policy is subject to change during the year, if there are any discrepancies between any Statement of Legal Residence and the Residence Policy and Guidelines, the Residence Policy and Guidelines govern the rules around Residence for Tuition purposes at all times.

The University of California's Statement of Legal Residence is made up of three parts: Physical presence, Intent to remain in California, and Immigration status.

- 1) Physical Presence - You and your parents must be physically present in California for more than 365 days immediately prior to the residence determination date. If you moved to California primarily to attend the University of California or another school, you are ineligible for a Resident classification for tuition purposes.
- 2) Intent to remain in California - You and your parents must have established your intent to make California your permanent home for more than 365 days immediately prior to the residence determination date and must have relinquished ties to any prior place of residence outside of California. Please read the UC Residence Policy and Guidelines to learn more about how to document your intent to remain in California.
- 3) Immigration status - You and your parents must be citizens or permanent residents of the United States, or be present under a valid I-94 for an eligible visa, and have held that immigration status for more than 365 days prior to the residence determination date.

Please note: Even if you were previously classified as a resident in another system, you will still need to meet the University of California's classification requirements.

In some cases, applicants may qualify for a Special Circumstances, Exemption, or Waiver provision and will be asked to submit additional supplemental information at a future date. A full list of exemptions and waivers can be found in the UC Residence Policy and Guidelines .

If there's anything else you want us to know about you, now's your chance. But remember, you should use this space only if you want to describe anything that you have not had the opportunity to include elsewhere in the application. This shouldn't be an essay, but rather a place to explain unusual personal or family circumstances, or anything that may be unclear in other parts of the application.

- Use this space to describe a situation (personal or academic) that needs further explanation, and it is not captured elsewhere in the application
- Do NOT use this space to respond to an additional Personal Insight Question

Gaps in education

If you did not address any gaps in your enrollment earlier in the UC application, you will be prompted again here.

If the reported number of units does not meet the minimum requirement, you will need to verify that the units reported are accurate.

- Note: This count does not include AP, IB or A-level exams!

Academic review * required

We want to do one last check to make sure your academic information is accurate.

If you have missing coursework or gaps in education, you'll need to confirm the information is correct before you can continue with the submission process.

Gap in education

Your academic history indicates a gap of more than five months in your college education.

Please use the space below to briefly explain the reason for this gap, and what you did or plan to do during that time. If this is incorrect and you do not have a gap in your education, you can edit your information by clicking the "Edit 'Academic history'" button below.

Verify units and applicant level

Junior-level transfer students must have a minimum of 60 semester units or 90 quarter units.

Based on the coursework information you provided in "Academic history," the number of units you reported (47 semester/70.5 quarter units) does not meet the minimum required for the level you selected. This total, however, does not include units you may have earned from AP, IB, and/or A-level exams.

If you think the coursework total (without exams) is incorrect, click on the button below to return to "Academic history" to edit your courses. If the total is correct, or if you believe you will have the minimum units with test scores you've reported, please check the box below to confirm your courses are accurately reported.
