A maximum of 64 transferable semester units (equivalent to 16 Scripps courses) will be accepted from Santa Monica College for transfer to Scripps College.

No course graded lower than "C" will be accepted for transfer.

Courses passed on a Credit/No Credit basis at Santa Monica College will count only as elective credit toward the bachelor's degree requirements and will not meet any General Requirements or major requirements at Scripps College.

No grades of transfer courses will be used in computing the cumulative grade point average at Scripps College.

Those courses at Santa Monica College identified in the Santa Monica College Catalog as being transferable to the University of California (UC) without limitations and offered in academic disciplines also offered at the undergraduate Claremont Colleges (Claremont McKenna, Harvey Mudd, Pitzer, Pomona and Scripps Colleges) will be accepted as transfer credit.

Transfer credit earned as semester units at Santa Monica College will be converted to Scripps College courses based upon one semester unit being equivalent to one fourth (.25) Scripps course.
